Will Severely Try Powers as Spy: Moscow

Ike Plans Visit Unless Premier Cancels Bid

Could Use 10 Days Elsewhere

Chiefs to Discuss Trip at Summit

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was quoted as saying today he still plans to visit the Soviet Union next month unless Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev withdraws the invitation.

Rep. Arch Moore of West Virginia said Eisenhower told him and a group of other House Republican members that if Khrushchev does decide to pull back the invitation "it's all right with me."

Eisenhower's views were reported against the background of Khrushchev's suggestion that the President might not be welcome because of the American spy plane incident.

Secretary Affirms Plans

At a news conference shortly afterward Anne Wheaton, associate White House press secretary, was asked:

"As of now, the official position is that he (Eisenhower) still expects to go to Russia?"

Mrs. Wheaton nodded an affirmative reply. She declined to discuss the matter further.

Moore and several other GOP congressmen had breakfast with Eisenhower at the White House.

Moore quoted Eisenhower as saying further that the 10 days he now is scheduled to spend in the Soviet Union "could be utilized elsewhere" if the Kremlin leader should withdraw the invitation.

Eisenhower did not elaborate on that, Moore told reporters.

Will Wait for Krush

In response to a question, Moore said Eisenhower made it plain he intends to wait for Khrushchev to bring up the matter of the visit. The Kremlin leader said Wednesday that he and Eisenhower would discuss the matter when they met in Paris next week for the summit conference.

For this and other reasons, the outgrowth of the U2 spy plane incident loomed large as an unwritten agenda item at the long-awaited meeting of East-West chiefs of state.

The rising tension over the affair cast gloom on chances for success at the summit parley as well as shadows on Eisenhower's Soviet trip, which has been scheduled for June 10-19 in return for Khrushchev's visit here last September.

Readies Formal Reply

The United States was preparing a formal reply, to be sent to Moscow soon, to Tuesday's Soviet note. The Soviet protested the May 1 U.S. plane flight into Soviet territory and threatened reprisal for any such future "hostile act."

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that "I expect to go" to the Soviet Union. But that was before news reports were received here of the Khrushchev statements which cast doubts on

TO ENTER WEST POINT—Andrew A. Dykes, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dykes, of 143 Prospect Street, recently received notice of his appointment to the U. S. Military Academy West Point. Due to be graduated from Kingston High School June 20, he is to report at West Point July 5. A member of the Kingston High School Band for four years, he holds membership also in the Key Club and National Honor Society. He had attended School No. 8 and the George Washington School. The appointment was by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, of Richmondville, representative from the 29th Congressional District.

County Chiefs Booming Keating As Nixon Mate

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A movement to nominate New York's Sen. Kenneth B. Keating as a favorite-son Republican candidate for vice president was reported growing today among GOP County chairmen.

The movement reportedly originated in Keating's home county of Monroe.

Monroe Republicans have been rounding up support for Keating in other counties.

No Committee Word

The Republican State Committee has made no official recognition of the movement.

A committee spokesman said the state organization was standing by its policy that it would not endorse specific candidates until convention delegates had indicated their preferences.

The delegates will be chosen at the June 7 primary. The national convention will be held July 25 in Chicago.

Those pushing the Keating candidacy present their case this way:

The 60-year-old senator would provide geographical balance for a ticket headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon of California.

Keating is an able speaker, a distinguished-looking figure, and has a solid Republican, but not too conservative, record in Congress.

The nomination of Keating, a New Yorker, would do much to tighten relations between the Republican national organization and Gov. Rockefeller.

The national organization wants Rockefeller to assume a major role in the Nixon campaign but he has so far shown no inclination to do so.

The nomination of a vice presidential candidate identified closely with Rockefeller would help bring Rockefeller into the Nixon camp.

Developments in the Democratic camp, however, might work against a Keating nomination.

If the Democrats nominate Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, for president, Republicans might want a Catholic as a vice presidential candidate to appeal to Catholic voters.

Both Keating and Nixon are Protestants. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, a Catholic, might be considered for the GOP nomination for vice president if the Democrats nominate Kennedy.

The Democratic national convention opens July 11 in Los Angeles.

Four Indictments Reported. One Is For Manslaughter

Four indictments, including one charging Katie Belle Taylor, 45, Town of Marlborough resident with first degree manslaughter, have been reported by the grand jury in a partial report to County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Fourteen sealed bills were reported and there were four dismissals in cases where no indictment was returned. The grand jury will continue its deliberations.

Katie Belle Taylor was arrested and charged with second degree murder for the death of 58-year-old Thomas Small who was stabbed to death on March 19, in the apartment of Remus Hobbs on the Nardone farm on North Road, Highland. The knife was recovered by troopers from a stove where it had been thrown.

According to the facts as reported by State Police and Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca, who went to the scene, there had been a drinking party and Katie Belle, told the officers she was "crazy drunk" and did not know what happened.

Hearing On Additional Lights Set

Seek Port Ewen Area Extension

A public hearing on extension of Port Ewen Light District to include the shopping center at Thieves Market, Route 9W, has been scheduled for Wednesday, May 25 at 8 p. m. in the Town Hall.

Arrangements for the hearing were announced at the Wednesday night Esopus Board meeting.

Request Received

The board reported a letter received from Crown Sales Inc., which operates the shopping center, asking for extension of the Port Ewen Light District to include the property.

The Port Ewen Business Men's Association request for installation of fluorescent lights in the business section of Port Ewen will also be discussed at the hearing.

A report on the progress of test drilling for additional sources of water indicated that the first test well at the foot of Main Street, Port Ewen had an insufficient supply. Zale Liese, chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners told the board. A second test well is now being drilled in the Sleightsburgh area, he said. Test well sites were chosen as a result of a geological survey of the area conducted last summer.

The Town Sesquicentennial Committee gave a preliminary report on the proposed 150th

Will Make Study Of Ordinance on Wiring in Ulster

A proposed electrical ordinance was discussed by the Town of Ulster Board Wednesday night following a presentation by Leo Barry, executive assistant of the Bureau of Electricity, Board of Underwriters, New York State.

It was the feeling of the board that the proposed ordinance required further study.

Barry presented a proposed electrical ordinance, pointing out that one-third of fire losses result from improper installation of electrical service.

He said that if the ordinance should be adopted a chief inspector of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters would inspect all electrical installations for approval without expense to the township.

His primary objective, he ex-

Area Resort Is Told Advertising Discriminatory

The State Commission Against Discrimination has ordered an upstate resort known as Trowbridge Farm, Kyserike, to eliminate phrases deemed discriminatory from both its advertising and its promotional literature, it was announced today.

The decision was reached after a public hearing conducted by Commissioners Bernard Katzen, Mary Louise Nice and John A. Davis. The hearing arose out of a complaint filed with SCAD by Robert E. Sachs, of 1000 Grand Concourse, the Bronx, who is of the Jewish creed, and belongs to the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The complaint was lodged after Sachs received promotional literature from the resort which contained the phrase, "Serving Christian Clientele Since 1911," and the public hearing was ordered by Commissioner J. Edward Conway following efforts to conciliate the complaint.

In the majority opinion, issued by Presiding Commissioner Katzen and concurred in by Commissioner Nice, it was stated that "legend 'Serving Christian Clientele Since 1911,' and used in the brochure . . . can have only one connotation. It calls attention to the religious creed of the guests the resort has been serving and pre-

PLANE WRECKAGE DISPLAYED IN MOSCOW—Plane wreckage, which the Russians say is part of the U-2 American reconnaissance plane flown by Francis Powers, is displayed in Moscow. Premier Khrushchev said he was "horrified" to learn that President Eisenhower had indorsed aerial spy missions over the Soviet Union. As a result, he said, he had changed his opinion of the President built up after the Camp David, Md., talks of late last year, and indicated he didn't care whether or not a Summit conference was held next week—although he planned to be there himself. Canceling of June 7 Primary to Save County $10,000, No Contests Existing

There will be no Primary election in Ulster County this year.

The Ulster County Commissioners of Election met this morning and after determining no contest existed, the Board dispensed with the Primary which under the law would have been held June 7 had there been a contest. It is estimated this will save the county at least $10,000 from not having to secure polling places, pay election inspectors and print voting materials and reports.

No contest exists in the five county 29th Congressional District since Monroe Solidar of Hunter, who sought to become a Democratic delegate to the Democratic Convention, withdrew and failed to file a petition with the Secretary of State. There is also no contest in the 34th Senatorial District. It is estimated there will be a saving of $30,000 in the 29th Congressional District through dispensing with the Primary.

Solidar had announced he would oppose James O'Connell Jr., Greene County Democratic chairman, as delegate to the Democratic National Convention. A week ago he withdrew after securing a large number of signatures to his petition. Solidar had objected to party leaders picking themselves as delegates. Joseph F. Hawkins of Dutchess County, a delegate, is the Dutchess County Democratic chairman.

Under an amendment to the State Constitution, adopted by the voters last fall, primary elections may be dispensed with. The law provides that where there is no contest for nominations for party positions, no primary shall be held. In effect it states that all persons designated, where they are uncontested officers for a position at an election, shall be deemed nominated or elected thereto as the case may be without balloting. In short no primary shall be held where there is no contest. Thus the cost of running a primary is saved.

However, enrolled members of a party entitled to vote in the nomination of a candidate for public office or for party position in the primary election and equal in number to at least the number of signers required to designate a candidate for such office or position, may file with the Board of Elections for such office or position a petition requesting an opportunity to write in the names of a candidate or candidates who need not be specified for such office or position. If this is done in accordance with the provisions of the Election Law, then a primary election must be held for such office or position. Likewise, if more than one designating petition is filed for a particular office or party position, then a primary must be held for such office or position.

The Board of Elections has, to date, received no petitions for a write in nor any other petitions. Thus there will be no county-wide primary this year in Ulster county.

The central registration is now in progress at the Board of Elections. Anyone desiring to register for the coming general election to be held on November 8 of this year can appear personally at the Board of Elections and be registered for such election. Absentee ballots may also be obtained from the Board of Elections. Requests for such applications must be in person or by mail.

10 Years Or Death Possible

Khrush Warns Of Rockets Over U. S. in Attack

LONDON (AP) — Pilot Francis G. Powers has been charged with espionage and Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised: "We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

This was reported today by the Soviet news agency Tass.

The penalty for espionage in the Soviet Union ranges from 10 years in prison to execution by a firing squad.

Tass Gives Details

The latest developments were announced in Tass broadcasts from Moscow today in the wake of the news conference Khrushchev held Wednesday at the Moscow exhibit of espionage articles which the Soviets say Powers carried when he was downed May 1.

Part of Western correspondents' dispatches on the news conference had been held up in Moscow censorship. The Tass account of Khrushchev's remarks was carried from Moscow 20 hours after the news conference took place.

The Tass version carried this exchange between correspondents and the Soviet Premier:

Q. Will this plane incident influence Soviet public opinion when Eisenhower comes to Moscow?

A. I would not like to be in Eisenhower's place. I would not like to answer the questions which might be put to him when he comes to the Soviet Union! I can only say the Soviet people and our public are very polite, so there will be no excesses. But questions will be asked of course. (animation, laughter). I would put it this way: 'One person, namely U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, has helped the President particularly in this respect. At his press conference Herter made an outrageous statement!' Far from feeling guilty and ashamed of aggressive actions, he justifies them and says that this will continue in the future. Only countries which are in a state of war can act in this way. We are not in a state of war with America. These aggressive actions and Herter's statement are impudence, sheer impudence!

Tass said Khrushchev made the following reply to the question how the plane issue could affect the summit meeting:

Will Rout Agressors

"Let those who sent this spy plane think over this question—though they should have thought about the consequences beforehand. After all, an aggression has been committed against our country, and we shall continue routing all the aggressors who dare raise a hand against us.

"You see how accurately our rocketeers shot down the plane without setting it on fire. The pilot is alive, the instruments intact—in other words the material evidence is here for everyone to see. These are very skillful actions of our rocketeers. We are very grateful to them for this."

At another point, Tass said, Khrushchev stated:

Flexes Muscles

"If the United States has not experienced a real war on its territory, has not experienced air raids, and if it wishes to unleash a war, we shall be compelled to

Soviet Diplomats Expelled in Try For Defense Data

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Neutral Switzerland expelled two Soviet diplomats Wednesday as spies.

The two were seized in Zurich as they went to a rendezvous with a double agent from whom they expected to buy top-secret information on Swiss defense plans and on missile launching bases in West Germany. The Soviets thought the agent was spying for the Soviets.

The launching sites were believed to include the U.S. Air Force's big intermediate range ballistic missile base at Sembach, near Kaiserslautern, and smaller U.S. Air Force bases in the southern part of West Germany.

The accused Soviet diplomats were described as sullen and arrogant from the time of their arrest until they left the country.

The Soviet Embassy confirmed their arrests but declined to comment or give the names of the diplomats.

Could Be on Spot Either Way

Admits Making Rain, But Thinks He Prevented Some

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS
Freeman Staff Writer

This is the 16th in a series of articles on the 1950 cloud-seeding attempts of Dr. Wallace E. Howell, Harvard climatologist, to help New York City get a safe supply of water.

It finally came in early August; that long awaited report from the rainmaker indicating that he could bring down some water.

"I have made rain," the AP quoted Dr. Howell as having said on August 7. But, said the report, "he quickly qualified his statement saying that indications are he hasn't made very much rain."

Could Have Dried Clouds

Most of the "unusual amount" of rain in the area, before the big admission, he said was not man-made, and he even suspected that he might have stopped some rain from falling. Seeding of clouds, mostly with silver iodide "smoke," sent up from ground generators, he revealed, could have "dried up" some clouds that otherwise would have caused rain.

Less attention was paid Dr. Howell's activities for several days after he had guessed that he had made some rain, but by mid-August, New York's Board of Estimates had decided to hire him for another six months. He was due to resume, under the new contract on Aug. 20, but he had decided to suspend the experiments for a month, while he prepared a report on his efforts, which began in March at the peak of the city's water shortage.

'Doc' Rests Magic

The Freeman, noting the layoff, said in a headline Aug. 18: "Happy Sunshine Everybody — Doc Rests His Magic."

Just before the rainmaker said he would quit for a month, however, a rain of "near-record intensity" was reported in the Kingston area. It came with "violent thunder and lightning," and "rang down an early curtain" on the Aug. 16 program of the Ulster County Fair in Forsyth Park. Showers of hailstones were reported in the Ashokan and Phoenicia areas. The storm nipped optimism in the earlier Weather Bureau report that warm sunshiny weather was due for nearly a month.

It was not indicated whether Dr. Howell could have contributed, even slightly, to the wild Aug. 16 storm, but just one day before it, another branch of science appeared to be having its troubles.

Fail to Locate

A news dispatch then noted "one of the greatest earthquakes measured by man," had struck somewhere on the earth at about 9:23 a. m., (EST) but "all the resources of science have failed, so far, to pinpoint its location." It was believed, however, to have been in a South Pacific region, possibly in a remote North Burma area.

It, at least, appeared likely that none among those in charge of seismographic record had set out on some type of interior seeding to kick up an earthquake.

By mid-August, at last, we had heard from Dr. Howell that not only might we have made some rain, but that he might also be able to dry up a cloud now and then. That latter phase of his experiment seems to have gone without attention in subsequent weeks, months and years, and it now appears that he could yet be called upon for some effective reverse action somewhere sometime. It would, at least, be worth a try in areas hard hit with too many weekends of rain and in others deluged by rains of damaging duration.

Either way, it appears a rainmaker or rainchecker, could be on the spot whether he is ahead of, behind, or even with nature in doing his job.

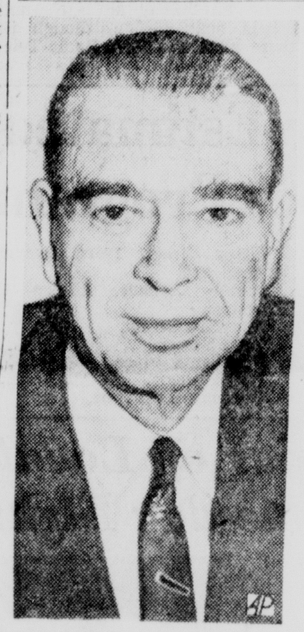

Morton Sees Spy Case Boost for U.S. at Summit

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton said today the American spy plane incident in the Soviet Union would serve to strengthen President Eisenhower's hand at the summit meeting.

The Kentucky senator said in a prepared speech that prior to the plane's intelligence mission "Khrushchev may have felt that he held more cards in a mistaken assumption that we were not totally informed on military developments in the Soviet union."

"Now, however," Morton added, "he knows that—among other intelligence programs — planes of the U2 type have been monitoring him for at least four years.

"Armed with clear knowledge of the Communist capabilities, and knowing that Khrushchev now understands we have such knowledge, President Eisenhower can get down to the meat and potatoes of world issues at the summit."

NAMED — John S. Bragdon, 66, retired Army officer, has been chosen by the President to be a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board. He will succeed James Durfee.

Moscow Building Up But for What?

U. S. Call Seen Needed Now to Blast Khrushy for Phony Show About Plane

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why hasn't the United States been tough enough to call Premier Nikita Khrushchev a phony for his hypocritical show about the American spy-plane downed over The Soviet Union?

That's one of the two most puzzling questions about this whole episode in which the Soviet captured the plane and the pilot and, through Khrushchevian propaganda, pictured the United States before the world as an international villain.

Horrifying Performance

This is the other: Wh for a week has Khrushchev been putting on the horrified and self-righteous performance against spying when he and the Soviet Union have been up to their necks in espionage?

The State Department — after first lying about it but then admitting it after Khrushchev produced the evidence of the one downed plane—acknowledged this country has been sending spy planes around and into the Soviet Union for years.

But the Soviet Union for years has been spying on other countries around the world, including this one. Nobody's kidding anybody. But Khrushchev chose to put on the injured innocence act because just one U. S. plane was caught.

Ironically, Wednesday just as he was sounding off again on the United States for spying, the Swiss government expelled two Soviet diplomats who, it said, had been caught trying to obtain Swiss and West German military secrets.

If anyone has a right to be outraged by spying it's not the United States or the Soviet Union, both of which are guilty of it, but Switzerland. The United States and the Soviet Union are antagonists and, in this still primitive world, spying is natural for them.

But Switzerland is completely neutral and not allied with either side.

Leaves Him Red-Faced

Khrushchev caught this country in a nasty trap through State Department blundering. This was when the department, without first knowing all the evidence Khrushchev had, denied there had been any aerial spying.

But the department's follow-up admission there had been such spying for a long time was a deadly embarrassment for Khrushchev although he was clever enough not to show it.

The fact that American planes have been probing deep into the Soviet Union without capture or injury is a terrible blow to Soviet claims of military defense. Khrushchev probably never dreamed this country would admit this long-time spying.

He actually made his military defense look oafish to be able to claim only one spy plane caught out of many. Instead of admitting performance, one question gets bigger and bigger: Why did he do all this?

A Lot of Surmises

It's been guessed that, since he meets with President Eisenhower and the leaders of France and Britain next Monday at the summit, perhaps he wanted to put them on the defensive before they even sat down.

Or maybe all this is a buildup to blame the West if the summit meeting is a failure. Maybe he just wanted to diminish the stature of the United States in the eyes of the rest of the world.

Maybe any one of these surmises is the true one. Perhaps not. The truth perhaps lies somewhere else and won't be disclosed for some time. Khrushchev had worked suspiciously hard on this one.

At first he absolved Eisenhower of blame in the plane incident. But then the State Department admitted Eisenhower had given approval — without necessarily approving each individual flight — to aerial spying on the Soviet Union.

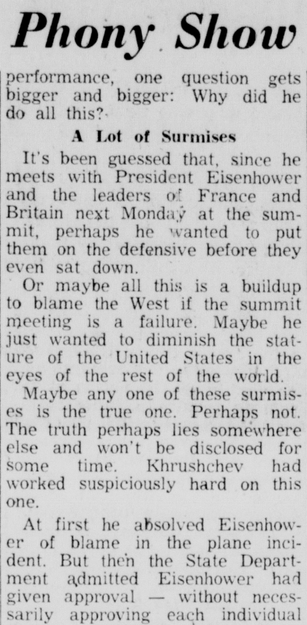

Now Khrushchev says his attitude towards Eisenhower has changed — because of that State Department admission — and has indicated Eisenhower may not be welcome in the Soviet Union. The inadequacy, he diverted world attention from it by crowing about the one plane brought down.

After a week of watching this President is supposed to go there in June to visit Khrushchev.

U.S. Still Reluctant

But this effort to diminish Eisenhower's stature is as phony as all the rest. As boss of the Soviet Union, Khrushchev has had to do exactly what Eisenhower did but in reverse: He has had to give general approval for Soviet spying.

This is the classic example of the upside-down and black-is-white world of communism. Still, for some unexplainable reason, Eisenhower and this government have been reluctant to wrap Khrushchev's own hypocrisy around his neck.

This Fisherman Casts Line From 18 Story Window

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody's knocking fisherman Richard Gimbel by saying he has a good line. He needs one, living 18 stories above the East River.

Gimbel, an executive producer at NBC, doesn't confine his casting to the office. Far from it. As soon as he gets to his Sutton Place apartment, he gets out his fishing rod and lets fly with 200 feet of line into the river below.

"I've always been a river buff," he said Wednesday as he leaned out of a window of his nine-room 18th-floor apartment — fishing, of course.

"Fishing is very practical here. My wife and I never eat what we catch; it's strictly sport. But on some Friday nights we hold fishing parties up here, and as bait we have squid, shrimp and canapes."

Gimbel, 35, says he has hoisted up dozens of eels. But he really has his mind and eye on the bass which he knows inhabits that section of the river. So far no luck.

The State Education Department on Wednesday announced the names of area persons who passed the latest examination given by the State Board of Pharmacy for licenses to practice pharmacy. Three names of Ulster County residents were included in the list, those of Lester R. Kleinman, Ronald G. Matthews and Joseph G. Rampe, all of Ellenville.

BELOW EXPECTATIONS

Most of the corporate earnings statements for the first quarter of the year are now in. Observers are divided as to their meaning. Some call them disappointing, others call them good. A consensus would indicate that profits are good, but less than had been expected.

The stock market seems to have been prescient in this matter, as stock prices hover around the lows reached in March. Some market analysts believe that for the first time in years the so-called averages, reality, may now represent something closer to true value.

What the administration's battle against inflation may have contributed it is hard to say. Certainly there is less confidence in the minds of investors that the inflationary spiral will resume at any given moment. On the contrary, with steel production 70 per cent below capacity as a result of a fall-off in manufacturers' demand, those accustomed to a boom-time psychology may be a bit apprehensive.

But this would be unwarranted. There seems little possibility for any slackening in government or individual spending in the months ahead. As a matter of fact, the great campaign debate could revolve, with some justice, around the question whether spending for public needs has not fallen too far behind personal spending. To those with interest in the stock market this would not be bad news.

Western nations want to limit arms shipments to Africa. So does Russia—as long as it has underground routes.

THE CHARACTERS

There are a few natural, or pure, nonconformists about. They are the ones who genuinely do not concern themselves with the whims and customs of society. They live their own lives and are absorbed in what they do, and care little what the conformists may think about them.

And then there are the artificial nonconformists. They wear a beard or black leotards, indulge in "cool" patter, purport to find ecstasy in the rhythm of bongo drums, write bad poetry, practice uncouth manners, mutter allegedly shocking opinions—not because these things come naturally but because this is regarded in some circles as the way to be a non-conformist.

Our reaction, admittedly based on limited observation of the breed, is that these determined non-conformists are the most conforming people around. They conform more zealously to their groups' accepted pattern than any other individuals we know. They have yet to learn one of the big lessons of life: It is easier to be a character than it is to have character.

Tunneling is the plan favored for a traffic span linking Britain and France. The first difficulty is digging up enough money.

BACKYARD FRAGRANCE

A grocery store set up a display of a well known condiment under a sign which proclaimed: It's the season! And so it is—the season when culinary odors drift from backyard to backyard of an evening. The outdoor cook is with us again.

One views the prospect with mixed emotions. Wondrous things can be done with a charcoal grill and a thick steak, true. The shish kabob, marinated with care and broiled with loving attention, has power to enthrall the palate. Yet the queasy truth is that not all open air cookery results in ambrosia. Some products of the grill are more reminiscent of shoe leather than of the Ritz dining room.

The trouble appears to spring from the notion that anyone capable of starting a charcoal fire can turn out food for the gods thereon. This, as the bumpkin said upon simple fare as steak and hamburgers. The more complex the menu, the more know-how is involved. Which is why some of the culinary odors drifting from yard to yard these evenings are more enticing than others.

ESPIONAGE

Espionage is a constant and normal activity of government. All governments engage in it, according to their means and their purposes. It is often referred to by such fancy names as intelligence or information, but it is always the same task. A competent agent does not get caught. He commits suicide or he melts away. A spy that is caught deserves death from either side. When one engages in such activities, he knows what he is doing. He knows that there are practically no very significant rewards, except the satisfaction of having served his country. His job is not to get caught.

The professional agent often works for either side and sometimes for both sides. Such a spy is usually called a double agent. Often a double agent is known to both sides as such and is used to plant false information. He is valuable for leads. Also he is sometimes watched and trailed in the hope that he will lead to the real man, his employer.

Soviet Russia has maintained an open and a secret espionage corps in this country, at least, since 1920. The open espionage corps is the Communist Party of the United States. Every member of that party owes allegiance to the mother country of socialism, Soviet Russia. Every member of that party literally is a spy upon the United States, but not every member is sufficiently intelligent for espionage which is one of the most skilled professions on Earth, requiring abilities far beyond most men.

Therefore Soviet Russia employs two other agencies in this country. One is the Communist Underground of skilled and even brilliant Americans with special abilities. Such persons as the Rosenbergs were this kind of agent and their organized efforts made it possible for Soviet Russia to spy on the Manhattan Project where the atom bomb was invented and manufactured. There were many others. Whittaker Chambers, one such person, has written the best account of the breed. Elizabeth Bentley, who was a courier among them, has also provided valuable information.

To add to these Americans and to instruct and direct them is a corps of Russians, Czechoslovaks, Hungarians and Red Chinese professionals who are engaged in this business. Each of the Warsaw Pact embassies, both in Washington and at the United Nations in New York, is engaged in the usual espionage activities. The United States does not usually shoot spies when caught. Americans are tried and sent to prison, often for such paltry charges as perjury as Alger Hiss was or for contempt of Congress, as many others were. Aliens are deported.

Attention must always be called to the fact that the Communist Party also maintains a United States government-in-exile in Mexico City.

The United States engages in espionage the same as any other government. Its principal agency for this work is the CIA, the Central Intelligence Agency, a very secret body. The Army, Navy, Air Force and State Department also gather information as do all similar agencies of all governments. The effectiveness of the CIA cannot be judged because its work must be secret and it is impossible to know how much of its evaluation of subjects is accepted by the State Department and the President who make policy.

The FBI also performs an important function in this regard. It deals with counter-espionage within the United States. Its function is to discover what the spies of all countries are doing in the United States, but the FBI is permitted to make arrests only on order of the Attorney General. If it is policy not to arrest a spy, as it was in the Roosevelt Administration concerning the Russian agent, J. Peters, the arrest is not made.

Khrushchev makes a great fuss over the American airman cought as a spy in the Urals. Our State Department, in one of the stupidest and unnecessary releases, admitted his espionage. To retaliate, the FBI should be instructed to pick up a dozen or so Soviet spies immediately, including a few American-born Russian agents. Two ought to be able to play at this game.

The most able spy I have ever known was Treibutch-Lincoln, who, although an Austrian, became a member of the British Parliament. When I last saw him he was a Buddhist monk in Shanghai, saying his prayers in Sanscrit.

Do Your Own Sleuthing To Uncover Sensitivities

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you think of the strange histamine-type allergic reaction in terms of a fire, then the hypersensitive person is like the tinder, and the foreign substance or allergen (ivy sap, goldenrod pollen, serum, drug) is like the match.

Now you don't need to call in the fire department to practice fire prevention in your home. And you don't need to be an allergy specialist or even a doctor to protect yourself and your family from most allergic reactions.

If you or any member of your household or any of the grandparents ever suffered any of the allergic reactions described in previous columns, then you may fairly conclude that you are possible tinder for a future fire.

This information you must give to each member of your family and to your doctor so he can write ALLERGIC in big letters on your charts just as the gas companies write FLAMMABLE on their tank-trucks.

Put to good use, this information serves to keep the wise driver from riding the tail of the flammable truck. Used otherwise, the panic reaction may spark an allergic reaction and actually produce an attack of hives.

If you suspect you are hypersensitive, your next task is to be very cautious about exposing yourself to common allergens, like ivy or sumac or to any substance that is new or strange to you.

For example, if you're buying a new cosmetic, try it out on the inner surface of your thigh before you put it on your face.

If you're feeding your baby a food for the first time, begin with an infinitesimal dose like a single drop of a mixture made by adding a single drop to a full glass of water.

If you're looking for a job in an industry that requires you to be in contact with strange chemicals or if a strange new chemical is introduced into a process in which you're already engaged, sort of sniff around it like a dog before his meal.

And if you drive into the rough where you see a shrub with pointed leaves, take a new ball and a penalty stroke and maybe save a couple of work days.

If now you actually develop some kind of recognized allergic reaction, put on your Sherlock Holmes cap and start looking for clues. Don't clear anything without careful investigation.

Maybe it's exposure to sunlight or cold. To sun tan lotion or sunburn ointment. To that new lipstick, eyeshade, nail polish, perfume, toilet water, hand soap, detergent, floor wax, insecticide, rouge, hair dye, rinse, deodorant, permanent wave lotion, depilatory roach or ant powder or synthetic fabric.

Maybe it's something in the pain killer, tranquilizer, nose drops, cold remedy, sedative, sleeping mdicine, or the acne lotion or ointment.

Maybe it's milk or eggs or fish or shell food.

Maybe it's just "nerves."

Just stay away from the suspect a few days and see if your allergy isn't better. Then expose yourself a bit and see if it isn't worse. Then a few more days away and another exposure just to double check.

But don't overdo this do-it-yourself program. When you're finally satisfied that your investigation is complete, turn your work sheets in to your doctor and let him carry on from there.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has told friends here that if the two presidential nominees this year are Nixon-Kennedy (she will sit the campaign out and not vote.

NATIONAL PRESS CLUB gossip has produced a pair of imaginary presidential tickets which would really show how broadminded the nation can be when called on for unity in time of crisis.

For the Republicans—Nixon for president and either Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona or Sen. Jacob Javits of New York for vice president. (The last suggestion has just been made by Khrushchev's Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper.)

For the Democrats—Kennedy for president and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell of New York for vice president.

With tickets like that to choose from, the explanation goes, intolerance would be eliminated as a campaign issue and the world would be shown that America is really a nation of complete religious and racial equality.

PEOPLE AREN'T as interested in politics as they normally are in a presidential election year. This is the finding of Leslie Biffle of Arkansas, Democratic secretary to the Senate during the Truman and Roosevelt administrations, who perhaps is possessed of the most sensitive political ears in the business.

Biffle frequently gets himself up like a chicken buyer and travels about in beat-up pickup truck — picking up political savvy. His first trip this year was to northern West Virginia and western Pennsylvania, heart of the soft coal area.

What interests the women most these days is world peace, Biffle reports.

And what interests the men most is job security—the fear of a layoff in coming months.

REAL ISSUES of this campaign may be just beginning to emerge as Congress takes up a half-dozen controversial measures.

They include:

Raise minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

Provide broad federal aid for education through school construction and increased teachers' salaries.

Make federal loans and grants to depressed areas suffering from severe unemployment.

Increase social security medical care for the aged.

Revise farm legislation.

Broaden housing programs, particularly on slum clearance and low-cost rental housing

Pass new farm legislation.

All those are issues which people can understand. They hit the voters where they live.

Republican administration proposals on all those programs are unacceptable to the Democrats. Democratic programs face a veto.

But those are the issues on which the campaign may be waged, after Congress makes its record and after the personality fights for the nominations are over.

REPUBLICAN headquarters is giving enthusiastic publicity to conflicts between Democratic presidential aspirants.

Humphrey's insinuations about Kennedy's "little black bag and checkbook" . . . Kennedy campaigner, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.'s questioning of the Humphrey war record . . . Kennedy's repeated dares to Symington to get into the primaries and fight . . . Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams' remark that "I don't think Sen. Lyndon Johnson has been liberal enough on civil rights."

AS FOR JOHNSON'S claim that he will run on the record of the 86th Congress, the Republican comment is that he'd better hurry up and make one.

Though four months of the 6-month session are now gone, Congress has cleared for the President's signature only 66 bills.

Most of them have been trick-track — cutting the taxes on night clubs, and bicycle tires, making seaweed products duty-free, and similar routine legislation.

Only one of the 66 new acts of Congress is considered important—the Civil Rights legislation—and Republicans call it a "GOP-proposed" bill.

Also, there's considerable difference of opinion on how much good it will do.

Wisdom of Eisenhower's Russian Visit Is Questioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Do the American people want President Eisenhower to go to the Soviet Union next month as planned?

This question will be asked again and again as news dispatches telling of the insults flung at the President by Soviet Premier Khrushchev are widely read. For the Soviet Premier has just about announced that the President would not be welcome in the Soviet Union. Under such circumstances, self-respect and the dignity of the nation would seem to require a polite statement postponing the visit till some day when the climate is better and there is a true understanding between the Soviet people and the American people of the issues in controversy.

"I would not like," said the Soviet Premier, "to be in President Eisenhower's shoes when he comes to the Soviet Union. People will have a lot of questions to ask and they will be right, too. But there will be no excesses.

"The Russian people are open-hearted. Can I expect them to welcome him as a dear guest? I would be mad to say to the Russian people to welcome as a host a man who sends espionage planes here."

But the converse is also true. The President of the United States would be going to Russia to fraternize with a ruler who has for years sent thousands of espionage agents to America and other countries. Mr. Eisenhower has been ready to go to Russia despite the fact that Mr. Khrushchev gave the order in 1956 to shoot down in cold blood the men, women and children of Hungary, and even today maintains slave-labor camps where thousands of Russians who have dared to speak up on public affairs are imprisoned.

Personalities

The President, in the interest of finding some basis for a better understanding between the Soviet Union and the United States government, has been willing to put aside all personalities. But Mr. Khrushchev now injects personalities. Asked whether the plane incident had changed his opinion of the President, he said: "It has, of course. I was not aware of the fact that the plan of air espionage over the Soviet Union was not the caprice of an irresponsible officer. I am responsible for the acts of this government and I was horrified to learn that the President had indorsed these acts."

But the interview with the Soviet Premier, which several newsmen had in Moscow, happened before a press conference was held in Washington on Wednesday in which Mr. Eisenhower formally explained American policy toward Soviet threats and arbitrary acts that have led to the tensions of the "cold war." The President said:

"No one wants another Pearl Harbor. This means that we must have knowledge of military forces and preparations around the world, especially those capable of massive surprise attacks.

"Secrecy in the Soviet Union makes this essential. In most of the world no large-scale attack could be prepared in secret. But in the Soviet Union there is a fetish of secrecy and concealment. This is a major cause of international tension and uneasiness today. Our deterrent must never be placed in jeopardy. The safety of the whole free world demands this.

"As the Secretary of State pointed out in his recent statement, ever since the beginning of my Administration I have issued directives to gather, in every feasible way, the information required to protect the United States and the free world against surprise attack and to enable them to make effective preparations for defense."

Even while Mr. Khrushchev was adopting a holier-than-thou attitude in Moscow, news dispatches from Switzerland at the same moment were telling the world that two officials of the Soviet Embassy in Bern were arrested there for spying and for bribing an agent to obtain plans of the Swiss Army radar establishments and plans for rocket bases in West Germany. Yet Mr. Khrushchev in his Moscow interview had said:

"I am responsible for the acts of this (the Soviet) government."

If so, then it would be as "logical" for President Eisenhower to begin wondering whether he should stay home lest a visit to Russia would seem to imply approval of the Soviet acts of espionage against countries in the free world.

Maybe Mr. Khrushchev, who blows hot and cold, may tomorrow be in another mood. Asked in Moscow if he really wanted Mr. Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union, the Premier replied: "We can exchange views with the President on that in Paris."

So the "summit" conference may unexpectedly have on its informal agenda the same question — does the Soviet Premier really want the President to visit Russia, and do the American people really want their President subjected to the indignities which Mr. Khrushchev hints at as he describes the doubtful role of an unwelcome guest?

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The wooing of Nelson Rockefeller is rapidly becoming a major task for Republican leaders who spurned the New York governor a few months ago.

They want to link the popular New York governor as closely as possible to Vice President Nixon's campaign for the presidency.

But Rockefeller, rebuffed in his attempts to win support for his own presidential ambitions, has withdrawn into polical isolation as far as GOP national affairs are concerned.

Peace Offering Await

Republican leaders bearing peace offerings stand anxiously outside his door.

Nixon is dropping enormous hints that he would like Rockefeller as his running mate. The GOP National Committee offers Rockefeller his choice of top convention jobs.

The governor can have his pick of keynote speaker, permanent or temporary chairman. Any of these posts would increase Rockefeller's national prestige and perhaps mark him as Nixon's heir apparent in future years.

But the governor has rejected outright suggestions that he accept the nomination for vice president. He says he would reject any pressures to change his mind, regardless of the source.

This, he has said, would include appeals from President Eisenhower.

No Word on Job

He has not yet announced whether he would accept a top role at the convention. At this point, the chief order of business scheduled for the convention is the nomination of Nixon for president.

Thus, the question facing Rockefeller is not basically whether to be a keynoter, a chairman or the second-rung nominee, but how closely he wants to identify his own political career with that of Richard M. Nixon.

So far, the governor has demonstrated that he has no desire to join forces with the vice president.

Nixon will visit upstate New York next week. He will be in Auburn on Tuesday, when Rockefeller will be in Corning, about 80 miles away. The governor has no plans to meet Nixon.

Rockefeller may feel that Nixon cannot win the presidency and the governor does not want to jeopardize his own political future by joining a losing venture.

Perhaps Rockefeller has basic, political differences with the vice president.

Or, Rockefeller may be planning a dramatic endorsement of Nixon, one that will be designed to solidify Republican ranks for the battle against the Democrats.

Whatever the governor is planning, he has little time left to answer those ardent swains outside his door.

P-TA Presidents Talk With Reade on Show Problems

Walter Reade, Inc., played host to 18 P-TA presidents at the theatre circuits' home office at Mayfair House in Oakhurst, N. J., recently. Attending were leaders from areas in which the firm operates theatres—as far north as Saratoga Springs in upper New York State, and as far south as Toms River, N. J.

The invitation to attend the meeting was extended by Walter Reade Jr., circuit president who wrote each a personal letter stating the session was being undertaken "to give you a 'behind the scenes' look at the movie industry and to acquaint you with some of the problems facing our local theatres as they relate to your organization and what Walter Reade Theatres plans to do about it." Particular stress was put on special children's shows which the theatre circuit has planned for the coming months.

The P-TA leaders attending were shown two new films—"The Adventures of Huckleberry Fin" from MGM, and "Crack In the Mirror" a new Twentieth Century-Fox production.

In Mr. Reade's remarks to the group he reviewed the background of the theatre organization and all the affiliated operations and announced some of his company's plans for operation in the various areas. A question and answer period was held in which the theatre owner and his staff replied to queries from the group on a variety of subjects pertaining to the motion picture industry.

In concluding the session Mr. Reade announced that because of the enthusiastic response of the group to this type of meeting, future sessions would be scheduled again with the P-TA's and also for various other groups interested in the activities of the motion picture industry and the local theatre.

Three Summer Trains To Be Dropped by D&H

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Delaware & Hudson Railroad will drop three summertime trains between Albany and Whitehall.

The Public Service Commission said today the railroad would not have to resume the service, which had been provided annually from the last week in June through the first week in September.

The trains involved are No. 3, daily from Albany to Whitehall; No. 4, daily from Whitehall to Albany, and No. 14, Whitehall to Albany on Sunday.

The Delaware and Hudson told the commission the one, 70-passenger coach on the train carried an average of 13.6 passengers northbound and 11.8 southbound on the 70-mile trip.

The line said it was losing $12,750 a year on the service.

The PSC said persons who had used the trains would be served in the future by through trains stopping at Whitehall.

BY OSWALD JACOBY

If you are one of those avid bridge players who read all books on the game you will note that there is a rather large lexicon of names of plays. Some that appear often are squeezes, end plays and all sorts of coups.

Here is a play that is not named in any books, but is still referred to in conversation among us old timers as the "No better place for it" play.

I was South. The late Ely Culbertson North and Waldemar von Zedtwitz East. West, who shall be nameless, opened his singleton heart. Waldy cashed two hearts and led a third.

My position was hopeless except that I had one slight chance if West held three trumps to the ace and would make a mistake. So I ruffed with the king. At this point West named the play by remarking, "No better place for it," as he overruffed.

If West had simply discarded I would have had to lose two trump tricks; as it was I lost only one and made my contract.

West's mistake in this case is obvious, yet there are many, many other occasions when a player can gain by refusing to overruff and there is a pretty good general rule to follow, which is, "Unless you want the lead immediately, don't overruff with your honor when your holding is three to the ace or king, or four to the queen or jack."

13 Big in Her Life

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Friday the 13th is the birthday of Mrs. Louis Van Guilder.

Mrs. Van Guilder (13 letters) is the former Matilda Hansen (13 letters). She was the 13th child in her family and was born on a Friday the 13th.

She resides in Sherman Street (13 letters), Albany, New York (13 letters). She and Louis Van Builder were married on Sept. 13.

Mrs. Van Guilder says she is not superstitious (13 letters).

matter of FACT

Idle dreamers of quick riches often imagine themselves the discoverers of sunken treasure. Vast treasure troves have been recovered from the sea, but it hasn't been a romantic job. The greatest underwater treasure ever uncovered was from the Laurentic, torpedoed off the Irish coast in 1914. She was loaded with 40 tons of gold and silver. Almost all the treasure was recovered from the deep, but it took six years and dozens of divers to do it.

Confident of Nomination

Kennedy Points to Maryland As Chiefs Assess Triumphs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) pointed his efforts at next week's Maryland primary today as political leaders assessed the effects of his victories in West Virginia and Nebraska.

Kennedy confidently told a news conference Wednesday his overwhelming defeat of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) in West Virginia assures him the Democratic nomination for president at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles.

Others Don't Go So Far

Others who will have a major say in selection of the nominee didn't go so far, but some of them conceded the West Virginia showing will have a strong effect.

For example: "The results are meaningful in our own state of New York." That came in a joint statement Wednesday from Democratic State Chairman Michael De Sapio, national committeeman H. Prendergast and Carmine G. and leader of Tammany Hall.

They added the result "will be a highly significant and serious factor" in the deliberations of the state's delegation, which will be chosen in a primary June 7. They didn't commit themselves further. New York carries 114 convention votes.

On the other hand, Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California and Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania maintained their previous positions of neutrality in the Democratic presidential race, though hailing Kennedy's West Vrginia triumph. They'll control delegations with 81 votes each at the July convention.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio (64 votes) said "Kennedy is on his way." He added, "His victory is more significant than the vote indicates." Ohio's first-ballot votes were already in line for Kennedy, but his friends now believe they'll stay in line past the first ballot if need be.

No Automatic Votes

The latest Associated Press tabulation shows Kennedy in the lead with 241½ convention votes, about one-third of the 761 he needs for nomination.

He gained no automatic votes in either West Virginia or Nebraska, where primaries do not bind the delegates, but he is virtually assured Maryland's 24 votes after the May 17 primary there. He faces token opposition from Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

As to the religion issue, Kennedy said the West Virginia result diminished it, if not eliminated it. A Roman Catholic, he won 60.5 per cent of the vote in the predominantly Protestant state, while Humphrey, a Protestant, got about 39 per cent. Humphrey permanently bowed out of the 1960 presidential sweepstakes.

Critical of Ike

At Chestertown, Md., Wednesday night Kennedy criticized the timing of President Eisenhower's recent announcement that the United States would resume nuclear tests. He said this might hamper disarmament talks and make this nation appear "disinterested" in nuclear disarmament.

At his news conference earlier in the day, President Eisenhower said the tests would be made solely to discover if there was a foolproof way to monitor nuclear blasts in order to police a test ban. And he said the Soviet Union and Great Britain would take part in the tests.

Kennedy was asked by newsmen about reports he'd poured money into his West Virginia campaign. Kennedy estimated outlays at $40,000 to $50,000, then upped the figure to about $70,000. But he said he "did not spend as much as Nixon did in Indiana."

He said Vice President Richard M. Nixon or his supporters spent "at least $150,000" in Indiana.

This brought a snort of "ridiculous" from Nixon's press secretary, Herbert Klein, who added that "Sen. Kennedy should be the last person to raise any question about excessive spending in campaigns."

Both Kennedy and Nixon scored in Tuesday's Nebraska primary. Kennedy, the only presidential candidate on the ballot, got the highest total for a Democratic contender in the state in 20 years. Nixon got an unexpectedly large outpouring of write-in votes, though a smaller total than Kennedy's.

Nixon Ahead of Ike

Late, late returns in Pennsylvania's primary last month came Wednesday. They showed Nixon did top the primary performance of President Eisenhower in 1956. Nixon got 954,205 votes, Eisenhower 951,932.

Sen. Humphrey, managing a sunny smile, returned to the Senate and bent his attention to getting re-elected to that body. His campaign bus still sat in front of a hotel in Charleston, W. Va., where it had been parking off and on unhindered for three weeks.

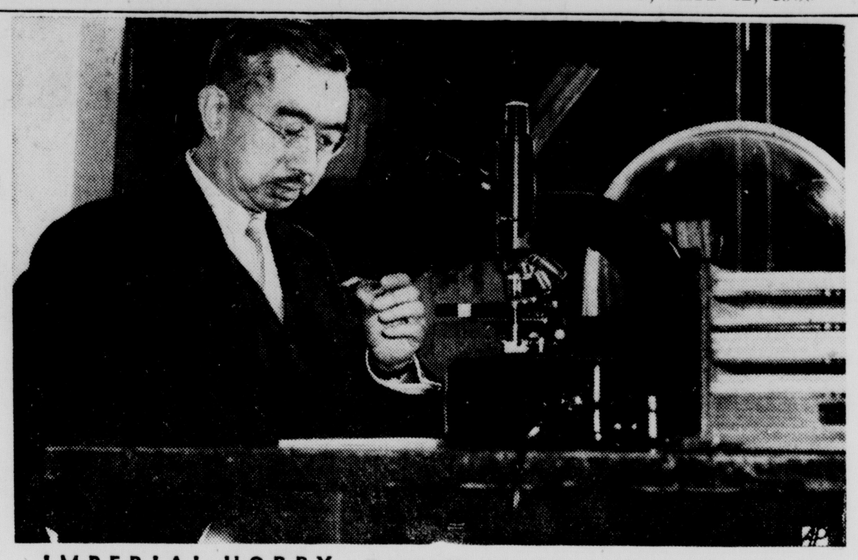

But things were different Wednesday. A cop put a parking ticket on the bus.

Paris White House

PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower's summit conference White House will be Ambassador Amory Houghton's residence on the Aveneu D'Iena, across the Seine from the Eiffel Tower.

Eisenhower will have a bedroom on the second floor and an office and staff room on the ground floor opening into a garden. A telephone in the office will provide instant contact with the White House in Washington 24 hours a day.

A U. S. Marine guard and secret servicemen will be posted at the gates of the big light-stone residence around the clock.

IMPERIAL HOBBY — Emperor Hirohito of Japan, who recently marked his 59th birthday, studies slide as he pursues hobby of marine biology in Tokyo palace study.

Jersey Sector Is Active for Rocky As GOP Candidate

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) — Another "Rockefeller for President" organization has been formed to back New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the nation's highest post.

J. Miles Thompson, a member of the executive committee of the local Young Republican Club, Wednesday said the group, "Rockefeller Volunteers," backed the governor because of his "vote-getting ability, real appeal, experience and excellent record."

Thompson said his organization has "the greatest respect for Vice President Richard Nixon" but feels the people have "the right to consider Rockefeller as a candidate for President."

"Gov. Rockefeller is ideally suited...to deal with the immense problems of the day," the former member of the Essex County Republican Committee said.

Rags to Riches

Eight in Varied Fields Winners Of Alger Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—Horatio Alger awards, each recognizing a "rags to riches" American success story, went today to eight men in widely varied fields.

The 14th annual awards were presented by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale on behalf of the American Schools & Colleges Assn., which represents about 500 institutions of learning. The winners were chosen by ballots from 3,000 campus leaders.

The 1960 winners included Carl S. Hallauer, president and board chairman of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. of Rochester, N.Y. An orphan, Hallauer paid his way through college by working in a cafeteria.

Proxmire Calls Boost in Cheese Imports Unwise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said today increases in Dutch and Italian cheese imports authorized by President Eisenhower are "unwise, badly timed and contrary to the public interest."

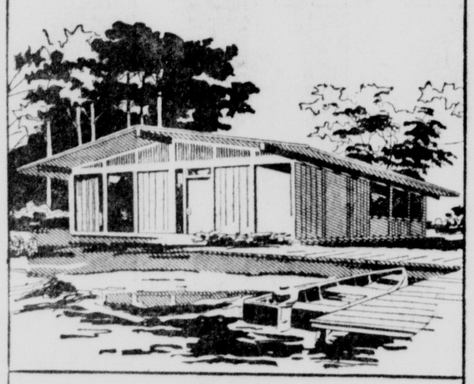

Proxmire said they would worsen the milk surplus problem, and thus put a heavier load on taxpayers footing the bll for price supports to farmers.

Proxmire said a 100 per cent increase in Dutch cheese imports authorized would "provide enough to satisfy the entire domestic consumption."

Eisenhower Wednesday increased the annual quota for Edam and Gouda cheese from the current 4,600,200 pounds to 9,200,400 pounds. He increased the quota on Italian type cheeses from 9,200,100 pounds a year to 11,500,100 pounds. The increases had been recommended by the Tariff Commission.

Prisoners' Hopes

CHICAGO, (AP) — Prisoners in the Cook County Jail answered a quiz by the jail's newspaper on what three things they hoped for most out of life. Some answers: "A wife, a home and happiness—because those are the three essentials of life." "Money, a good foundation under me, and a good girl—because that is what it will take for me to survive through my life." "Freedom, forgiveness from all my loved ones and all those I have hurt in the past, and the strength to live a Christian life after I am free, as I have learned here through the help of Christ." "Get out of jail, get back to my kids and be a great Casanova."

BRIMMING OVER—1960 promises to be The Year of the Big Hat if this New York item is any indication. It's a "sunbrella."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Back in the dear, departed days of primitive television, before tape was invented and when kinescopes were as fuzzy as old English movies, Roscoe Karns was pioneering as a private eye.

Actually, it was only 11 years ago that "Rocky King, Detective," hand-tailored to the talents of Karns delighted owners of 12-inch screens all across the country—particularly in the New York area where the show was live and the picture, consequently, better.

Today Karns is one of a very small band of television frontiersmen who have survived the erosion of public taste and escaped the perils of over-exposure. He is safely ensconced in the role of Captain Shafer, the crusty senior medical officer in Jackie Cooper's Navy comedy series. "Hennesey" was one of the season's big successes and CBS has renewed it for next eason.

Recently Karns and his wife made a leisurely motor trip east — a vacation from Hollywood shooting—to visit their son, Todd, now an executive in a recording company but remembered by us oldsters as the young detective in "Rocky King."

"Rocky King died after about four years because we picked the wrong network," said Rocky Karns. "The network was broken up, and the show went with it. It was so popular, though, that if we'd been with NBC or CBS we'd probably still be working."

Recommended tonight: Frank Sinatra Show, ABC, 9:30-10:30 (Eastern Daylight Time—the TV return of Elvis Presley from military service, welcomed by Sinatra pals Sammy Davis Jr., Joey Bishop, Peter Lawford and daughter Nancy Sinatra and taped several weeks ago in Miami.

Would Solve Everything

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A little girl was seen trying to coax her small puppy to cross a puddle which resulted from heavy rains. The puppy waded in to shoulder depth and balked. In disgust the girl waded back across, picked up the pup and muttered, "I wish you were a duck."

Construction Is Begun on Hurley School Addition

Construction has begun on the new addition at Hurley School. Footings and foundation walls for some of the rooms are completed and it is expected that the addition, including the new gymnasium and library, will be in use by the fall of '61.

Two pupils from the Hurley School won prizes at the recent Science Fair Final held at New Paltz. Second prize for all county 4th grade contestants went to Maureen Bieber for her exhibit, Growth of a Peanut Plant, under the category of Living and Growing Things. David Gordon won third prize among all 5th grade county-wide contestants for his model demonstrating the Principle of the Mercury Switch, in the Electrical category.

The Hurley Lions Club again presented the school with a tree which was planted at the recent Arbor Day ceremonies held at the school. The program included the singing of America, the Pledge to the Flag and the school prayer, followed by a recitation of the poem, Trees, by Lucille Haynes. President George Miller of the Hurley Lions Club made the presentation of the tree, an evergreen, with the assistance of members of the club, Oliver Tweedy and Jack Lupton. The program ended with the singing of America the Beautiful by the entire school.

Robert A. Ronder, Kingston lawyer, recently addressed an assembly of 4th, 5th and 6th graders on Law Observance. Ronder, who was very well received, based his talk on the Golden Rule. He covered bicycle safety, traffic rules and even table manners. The same group is looking forward to an assembly on May 24 at which Space Travel will be demonstrated with slides and models by Mr. Davenport, representative of the New York Telephone Company.

With pleasant weather here again, Hurley classes are busy making and planning field trips. Mrs. Hansen's 2nd grade visited Beatty's Dairy and Mrs. Kershaw's and Mrs. Battenfeld's 4th grades visited the Hurley Library. Trips being planned include a visit to Albany for the 5th grades, and the 6th grade's annual visit to New York.

A second edition of the Hurley School paper, Hurley Highlights, was published this week by Mr. Ebelheiser's 5th grade. It has enjoyed a wide circulation.

The 54 member Hurley Glee Club which has performed over the radio and, more recently, took part in the Hurley Lions Funnybone Follies, will sing nine numbers in the Spring Festival Program scheduled for May 23 and 24 at 7:30 in the school gymnasium.

Case Dismissed On Zoning, Two Decisions Wait

A petition seeking to determine whether a Hurley Avenue business was operating in violation of zoning regulations, was dismissed Wednesday night by the zoning board which reserved decision on two other applications.

Dismissal of the petition of Joseph Scott, of 321 Lucas Avenue, who sought a decision on whether operation of the Bride's Shoppe at 116 Hurley Avenue, was a zoning violation, was dismissed after the petitioner failed to appear at the session in the city court room, city hall.

Attorney Howard C. St. John, appearing for The Bride's Shoppe, moved for dismissal of the petition and hearing.

Decision was reserved on an application by John A. Sepsey for permission to build a three-car garage on a property at 4 Larch Street, and on one by Hazel DePaola who seeks to restrain use of a property at 119 Glen Street, for storage of used cars.

The hearings were conducted by Attorney George A. Beck, zoning board chairman.

J. D. Rockefeller Dies, Pioneer for Labor Man

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., famed philanthropist and head of one of the world's wealthiest families, died in a Tucson hospital Wednesday at the age of 86.

Death was attributed to pneumonia and heart strain.

A great humanitarian who abhorred waste, Rockefeller poured millions of dollars into welfare and cultural projects around the world.

Gifts Over $350 Million

No estimate of his personal fortune was available, but his known gifts totaled more than 350 million dollars.

Once looked upon by fellow capitalists as a radical, Rockefeller also was a pioneer in urging better conditions and an eight-hour day for the American worker.

Early in his career, long before the era of public relations, Rockefeller was saying:

"Labor has never had its just deserts. It should not be obliged to fight for what is its just due. Capital should be on the alert to find out what is equitable and see that labor gets it."

In his philanthropies, as in his business career, Rockefeller followed the footsteps of his father, founder of the Standard Oil Co., upon which the family's great wealth is based.

The total gifts of the Rockefellers is conservatively estimated at more than one billion dollars.

This does not include interest on endowments finaneing such organizations as the Rockefeller Foundation, General Education Board and Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Rockefeller graduated from Brown University in 1897 with a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholastic attainment and immediately went to work for his father.

Father of Governor

In 1901, Rockefeller married Abby Greene Aldrich, daughter of U.S. Sen. Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island. They had six children, a daughter and five sons — Abby, John D. III, Nelson, Laurance, Winthrop and David.

Mrs. Rockefeller died in 1948 and in 1951 Rockefeller married Martha Baird Allen of Providence, R.I.

A frequent winter visitor to Tucson, Rockefeller had been ill for several months. The hospital announced he had been taken off its critical list only an hour before he died.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER JR.

Vice Principal

Kingston High School, he was principally known as a mathematics teacher. He founded the KHS Golf Team and coached in golf, track and football.

In 1924, The Maroon, year book at KHS, referred to Bailey as "A little man in stature, but one whose ambition and accomplishments are far from small."

He was a member of the Athletic Association during his four student years, a member of the Athletic Council, the Hi-Y and Lincoln-Douglas Debating Society, and Varsity Letter Club.

In his junior year he played second string varsity football, and was a regular during his senior year.

In his senior year he was baseball manager, and also captained the basketball team.

Became Teacher in 1928

Bailey applied for a teaching position at KHS April 3, 1928 and joined the staff September 28 as a teacher of algebra and geometry for four years.

One of the references he gave was the late Judge Harry H. Flemming, Ulster County surrogate.

He served on the senior class committee, coached track in 1932, and was assistant coach of football. In 1934 he formed the golf team and was coach for a number of years.

He became vice principal in 1953 of Kingston High School and from 1954 to present had been principal of summer school.

A member of Trinity Methodist Church, he had served as a trustee on its official board. He was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi, Kingston Federation of Teachers; Wiltwyck Country Club, and served as vice-president of its board of directors.

U.S. Man Killed As Cuba Shoots Down Small Craft

HAVANA (AP)—A light plane was shot down early today on the highway west of Havana and its pilot was reported killed. Officials said he was attempting to fly counter - revolutionaries out of Cuba.

The U. S. Border Patrol at Miami, Fla., identified the pilot as Matthews Edward Duke who recently was listed among 29 airmen to whom plane rental agencies were not to rent aircraft under any circumstances.

The listing, distributed to airports and others in the aviation business, was designed to prevent unauthorized flights over Cuba.

Duke previously lived at West Palm Beach, Fla., the patrol said, but his present address is not known.

The incident occurred near the Cuban Naval Academy at Mariel, 15 miles west of the capital. Naval authorities were reported to have spotted the plane flying in the vicinity of the academy and ambushed it when it landed on the highway.

They said the pilot attempted to take off but he was shot down and killed.

Cuban officials said he was flying a single-engine plane with U.S. registry N4368.

Havana Radio said four men and one woman were arrested at the scene and all were "fugitives from Cuban justice." All were described as Cubans.

The same pilot, Havana Radio said, flew out three other fugitives earlier and Cuban authorities had been on the lookout for his plane since last Sunday.

The U.S. Embassy reported it was investigating the reports of the incident.

This is the third recent incident involving U.S. planes downed in Cuba and is certain to inflame relations with Washington.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro, members of his government and the pro-Castro press and radio have been vehement in their denunciations of flights over Cuban territory.

They say most of the planes have come from Florida to sabotage the Cuban sugar crop by bombing. Reports of incendiary bombings have decreased recently as U.S. officials applied strict controls on renting planes in Florida.

Woodstock Area News

LISA TIANO, Correspondent

Five New Horses Arrive in Town

Five new arrivals have boosted the total of new horses in Woodstock to twelve, Donald Twine, public relations chairman of the Woodstock Riding Club, announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Berberich, current owners of the former McEvoy estate in Bearsville, have two beautiful sorrels recently acquired from Louis La Fall's Lazy L Ranch near Highland. One is western trained and named Rebel. The other is a five-gaited with a particularly fine conformation, named Lady. Also in the Berberich stables is a lively buckskin named Na-Co-Ma, owned by Peter Scheerer.

Berberich is building a fine ring on the upper portion of the property for exercising and training his horses. Outside of the Woodstock Riding Club and the Hitzig ring in Bearsville, this will be the only other ring in the township.

Not far away on Orchard Lane, David Barth has just bought a dashing new black quarter horse from the Louis Basch stables in Hurley. This beauty is tentatively named Tar Baby. The horse does figure eights, pivots, sliding stops, etc. to perfection.

Up on Meade Mountain's lofty peak, May MacDaniels has a new sorrel registered quarter horse named Diamond. As this goes to press, there has not been an opportunity to properly interview Miss MacDaniels, but a report will be made later.

Twine says he has been trying to keep posted on new arrivals in Woodstock but may have missed some. Anyone knowing of a new, unreported horse in Woodstock is asked to drop a note to Donald Twine, Box 477, Woodstock.

Eartha Kitt Is To Marry Son of Rich Executive

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"I'm terribly happy, now I'll have something I never had—a family of my own," beamed Eartha Kitt soon-to-be June bride.

The Negro entertainer and handsome, sandy-haired Bill McDonald picked up a marriage license Wednesday on a flying trip to Los Angeles. Both are 30-years old.

"We plan to be married June 9 in a quiet ceremony at my parents' home," said McDonald, son of a wealthy Los Angeles business executive.

"But the honeymoon will have to wait," said Eartha, a Southern sharecropper's daughter. "I've a concert tour in this country and European engagements that will last through Christmas."

Eartha and Bill present varied backgrounds.

She was born on a dilapidated farm outside of Columbia, S.C. after that came Harlem slums and finally show business success via the Katherine Dunham Dancers, Paris Bistros, recordings, Hollywood and Broadway.

McDonald, who is white, attended a prep school at Ojai, Calif., then the University of California. As an infantryman in Korea, he picked up a Purple Heart and a Bronze Star. He was wounded by a burp gun and spent a year in an Army hospital.

Eartha and Bill say that between her engagements they'll settle down in Beverly Hills and raise a family.

W. Somerset Maugham once remarked: "I don't know why it is that the religious never ascribe common-sense to God."

Dairy Spokesman Fighting Move to Revive Dating

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A dairy spokesman has threatened "drastic measures" to cope with a move to continue requiring the dating of milk sold in New York City.

The 1960 Legislature approved a bill that abolished the milk-dating requirement. Gov. Rockefeller signed the measure.

John C. York, executive secretary of the Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, said Wednesday the New York City Council was supporting city legislation that would shift control of the program from the city's health department to the marketing department and side-step the state law.

"If the council desires to maintain an arbitrary requirement that has no useful purpose," York said, "dairy farmers who supply milk to the New York market will be left no alternative but to use more drastic measures to oppose those who are endeavoring to restore the requirement of milk dating."

York did not say what action the farmers might take.

Dairy interests backed the bill that eliminated the dating requirement. They maintain that modern refrigeration keeps milk fresh longer and makes the dating law obsolete.

Abolish Capital Punishment, Arab Boycott, Is Plea

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—The Rabbinical Assembly of America has called for abolition of capital punishment and an end to the Arab boycott on Israeli shipping.

During its 60th anniversary convention session Wednesday, the assembly, in a resolution on capital punishment, said that "Jewish law, in effect, abolished such punishment thousands of years ago because it is not consonant with the dignity of man and god's sovereignty over human life."

The 700 delegates, in another resolution, urged President Eisenhower to exert the full force of his office "to dissuade the nations associated in the Arab League from continuing with their boycott."

The rabbinic group praised the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Negro integration leader, in a resolution describing him "as a religious leader, in a resolution describing him "as a religious leader and founder of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference who has infused the struggle for civil rights with renewed moral and ethical vigor."

Named as President for the ensuing year was Rabbi Edward T. Sandrow, Congregation Beth-El, Cedarhurst, N.Y. He succeeds Rabbi Isaac Klein of Temple Emanuel, Buffalo, N.Y.

Real 'Fire Water'

RECTOR, Minn. (AP) — Underground gas, believed to be methane, permits a blue flame to burn from water faucets here although it doesn't affect quality of the water. City officials hope engineers can solve the "fire-water" problem.

New Red Film More Like It: U2 Designer

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — The designer of the U2 high altitude spy plane says the Soviets switched wreckage in releasing a second picture purporting to show a downed American plane.

"This looks more like it," said C. L. Johnson of Lockheed Aircraft when shown a reproduction of the Soviet picture showing wreckage on display.

"This definitely is not the same wreckage shown in the first picture released by the Russians," he said. "That was of a heavy airplane, this is a lightweight one, like the U2."

Johnson has called the first picture made public by the Soviets a fake. He planned to examine the newest photograph closely.

Would Expand Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) sought today to expand the ban on use of federal funds for construction of racially segregated facilities at airports.

The law already prohibits the use of federal money to build segregated facilities such as waiting rooms, restaurants and rest rooms. Javits wants to bar use of federal funds for construction of any kind at airports which permit locally financed segregated facilities.

He announced he was introducing the proposed ban as an amendment to the independent offices money bill carrying millions of dollars for the Federal Airport Construction Aid Program.

Weather Balloon Sets Night Record, Up 144,000 Feet

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—An experimental weather balloon, sent aloft by the Army Signal Corps, has achieved a night time altitude record of 144,000 feet—more than 27 miles.

The Army Signal Research and Development Laboratory here said Wednesday the balloon reached the altitude in a series of launchings during April. It tops the previous night time record by 14,000 feet.

The balloons, launched at night usually burst at lower altitudes, the Army said, because cooler temperatures cause the rubber to stiffen.

Closing Undecided

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A decision on whether to close the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. high-energy boron fuel plant at nearby Model City has been postponed, it has been learned.

The Niagara Falls Gazette said Wednesday the delay in the decision was reached after a visit by 16 Air Force officers to the plant.

The plant, which cost 45 million dollars, was started in 1957 and was designed to produce HEF-2, high energy fuel for the B-58 bomber. However, last August the Air Force decided it would not need the colum of fuel anticipated and said that Model City would be closed.

Spokesman for the chemical corporation declined comment on the report and said information would have to come from the Air Force. A source said, however, that the company hoped to find a use for the plant.

Ulster Workers Named for Drive On Mental Health

Mrs. Esther Weisman, 50 North Field Street., has been appointed chairman for the Mental Health fund drive in the Town of Ulster.

Mrs. Weisman has reported as her "Bell Ringers," the term chosen to designate volunteers for the drive, Mrs. J. A. Costello, Mrs. A Greenbaum, Mrs. Gloria Reamer, Mrs. Ruth Hulnick, and Mrs. Aura Greenberg.

It is through funds contributed through the generosity of American citizens throughout the country that strides have been made both in mental health research, and the vitally important program of education. The stigma surrounding mental health illness is continuously receding through enlightened information. It is predicted that a time will come when general hospitals will accept mental health patients routinely, and that facilities will be available for treatment on a local level.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I do not hear much about Arbor Day around here now, but such big cities like New York appreciate trees. I saw a picture in the Saturday, April 30, 1960, Daily News on page 8 in which workmen were planting a honey locust tree in front of the News Building. The item read in part: "The young trees, unusual for New York City landscaping, are 12 to 14 feet tall and will sprout feathery leaves. They were brought here from an Ulster County nursery to provide a picturesque curb border extending from the entrance of The News Building, at 220 East 42nd Street to Second Avenue and south toward 41st Street." It seems they have a raised rock garden there with a Japanese silk tree (mimosa) and our Ulster county honey locust trees will go near there. I wonder if any of these honey locust trees grow on the streets of Kingston. I would like to see what it looks like.

It is a strange world. The big city wants to take on an air of country living, the small cities like Kingston want to look like big cities with modern buildings. If there is a spot of ground or lawn near a business building or section there is always someone who wants to pour black-top on it. Folks from the new world, ours, spend money to go and see the Old World. Why do they go there? They want to see the old buildings, the cathedrals, the big stone walls, the quaint little houses, the cobblestone streets, and archways leading into mysterious other crooked little streets that have not changed over the centuries. Old historic buildings, old books and famous old paintings and traditions are of great interest to modern folks.

One recent resident from Boston remarked that he would like to live in Rondout, because it has character and personality due to its interesting old buildings and other structures. Well, he better make it soon before urban renewal changes things around. Recently many fine old buildings, whose architecture of the old school is familiar to us is being changed, with smooth straight modern facing. Like one remarked, it is like taking an old Boston rocker, which is glazed from the loving touch of many hands and cutting it down to straight modern lines and then painting it a bright pink gloss.

Many towns are now creating artificial villages of old times to attract tourist gold, while we have a very fine old historic city, which I feel we do not make the most of. What would Venice be without her canals, Paris without their crooked and interesting streets and buildings. One of our handsomest buildings is the central Post Office, which can be seen even better since the underpass was built. I do hope no one trys to make it "go modern."

No doubt in time homes will be built all along the Wilbur road, high up overlooking the creek. Perhaps homes will find places on our High Road going to Kingston Point. Wherever there are homes, there will be stores. Rondout was built with and by the D&H Canal which came in 1828. Stores went up all along. Where there are people living and working, there will be needs and first little stores come and supply them. There will be many changes as time goes on. Whatever is built today, by what we call "moderns" is not forever, that too in time will be torn down and rebuilt as are bridges that cannot keep up with the times and become too narrow for traffic.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roast beef, in a variety of cuts to fit a variety of budgets, makes a temporary comeback in many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

Although specials on beef have been infrequent in recent months, supermarket meat experts currently are offering everything from chuck roast to sirloin tip steaks.

Chuck at 49 Cents

Chuck, as low as 49 cents a pound in the New York metropolitan area, is offered in the East, middle Atlantic states and Midwest. The price compares with better than $1 a pound for cross rib roast and sirloin close to $1.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials say supplies of better grades of beef continue ample. They add, however, that the outlook for supplies next summer and fall is less certain.

Frying chickens are featured in a number of stores in the East, Midwest and Far West, although fryer prices are up 2 to 12 cents a pound in other areas.

Pork chops also are marked up in a few places, while leg of lamb generally is lower.

Egg Prices Dip

Eggs also are down in some areas with the biggest cuts in medium and small sizes.

Crisp iceberg lettuce is the best buy among vegetables this week. Other outstanding buys are small to medium asparagus, spinach, parsley, eggplant, mushrooms and medium-size, old crop yellow onions.

Fruit counters boast of outstanding bargains in bananas, grapefruit and oranges, while avocados, lemons and strawberries from North Carolina as well as Louisiana rate as good buys.

Kingston Savings Has Forms for College Loans

Kingston Savings Bank has received the necessary forms and approval for processing loans to college students under a new state law, it was announced today by Holt N. Winfield, president.

The new state law, recently signed by Governor Rockefeller, permits the state's mutual savings bank to provide low-cost, delayed - payment educational loans to needy college students under guarantee of the New York Higher Education Assistance Corporation.

The NYHEAC plan was established in 1958 for Commercial Banks, and was extended to savings banks last month.

President Winfield said Kingston Savings Bank's board of trustees authorized the bank to participate in the plan, and that the bank has received the approval of NYHEAC.

Under the plan, needy students can obtain loans with up to six years to repay, at an interest rate of 4 per cent during their college years. Following graduation or termination of study, the simple interest may at the option of the bank be increased to a rate no greater than 6 per cent.

Repayment of the loan need not be started until two or three months after finishing study.

Loans under this program will be available to enable students to attend colleges or pursue graduate training at any accredited institution in the United States or abroad.

Maximum loan amounts are: freshman year, $500; second year, $750; third year, $750; fourth and graduate years, $1,000; maximum loan to one student, $5,000.

Applicants must be residents of New York State for a year and must be accepted for admission in an approved college of their choice. There are no restrictions on the course of study, except that it lead to a degree.

Other than his interest in canals, submarines and ships, Robert Fulton also patented in 1794 a mill for polishing marble.

What the Struggle in South Africa Is About - - -

Passbook Law:

South African policeman examines native's "reference (pass) book" which he must carry at all times and without which he may not move about or work. This hated law led to protest in which scores of natives were brutally shot down by order of their Afrikaner Nationalist overseers.

No Voice in Rule:

The Negro's voice is a minus quantity in Parliament. After June the 10 million Africans will have no representation in the governing body. Capetown has decreed that the blacks be ruled within their communities by leaders of their own kind acceptable, however, to the white government's approval.

Slave Labor:

For almost a century the African has been exploited as cheap labor in the world's richest gold and diamond mines owned and controlled by his white masters. Working conditions are poor; labor recruits are segregated from their families and forced to live in barren, company-owned hovels.

Native 'Cities':

Blacks are compelled to live in special locales — compounds — designated by their white bosses to separate them from white communities. Their living conditions are most primitive, consisting largely of cardboard and tin shacks. Most are entirely dependent on whites for their very meager existence.

Strikes Barred:

Native workers have no redress against economic ills. Strikes are barred. In passbook protest Negroes refused to work. White rulers hunted them down in their homes, beat them into submission and forcibly carted them back to their jobs. Passbook law was rescinded, then quickly put back into effect.

Applications Ready For Officers School

Applications for qualified college seniors, who desire to enter Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I., after graduation, are being accepted by the Navy Department.

The Navy announced that candidates may apply for enrollment now for classes convening on Oct. 17, 1960, or Jan. 2, 1961, and, if selected, candidates will be enlisted immediately and placed on inactive duty until the date the class convenes.

During this period of inactive duty, candidates will be able to spend the summer months at home before reporting to OCS, and, during this period of inactive duty, candidates are not subject to the Selective Service System. Additional information can be obtained by communicating with the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office building, Albany.

Playwright Lillian Hellman was born in New Orleans.

IRE Groups Plan Dinner, Dance on Saturday Night

The Kingston and Poughkeepsie groups of the Institute of Radio Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers have scheduled their annual dinner dance for the Beekman Arms Hotel, Rhinebeck, this Saturday.

Dinner will be served at 7 p. m. with dancing from 9 to 1 a. m.

Both IRE groups will install new officers for the forthcoming year 1960-61.

As in the past three years, an award will be made to the outstanding science teacher in the Mid-Hudson area. Winner of this award will be announced during the evening. Members and guests may obtain tickets from Ancile Malden and other officers.

Mount Mitchell in North Carolina is 6,684 feet high.

Kingston High, Pine Plains Students Head Lamp Winners

Richard C. Cowan, a sophomore at Kingston High School, and June Brower of Ancramdale, a freshman at Pine Plains Central School, were selected as the first place grand award winners in the tenth annual lamp building and the fifth annual kitchen planning contest sponsored by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation.

J. Ernest Doolittle, Central Hudson vice president, announced the winning entries yesterday at the company's Poughkeepsie offices before a gathering of about 175 principals, industrial arts and home economics teachers, and the students whose lamps and kitchens had placed first in each of 36 high schools.

Other Winners

John Weeks, an eighth grader at South Junior High School, Newburgh, was selected as second prize winner in the lamp contest and third prize was awarded to Clifton Beck, a Newburgh Free Academy sophomore. Guy Alliotta of Poughkeepsie, a junior at Arlington High School earned fourth place and Philip J. Auchmoody of Shady, a sophomore at Onteora Central School, won fifth place.

Joyce Ann Wooley of Hyde Park, a sophomore at Roosevelt High School, was selected as the second prize winner in the kitchen planning competition. The third prize recipient was Diane Tomashevski, a junior at Newburgh's South Junior High School. Helene Davis of Hughsonville, a sophomore at Wappingers Central School, won the fourth place prize and Gail Shultis, an Onteora Central School Junior, was awarded fifth place.

700 Complete Entries

Approximately 700 Mid-Hudson Valley students completed entries in the utility company's two contests. Central Hudson awarded prizes to the top three winners in each school and the first prize entry from each school was considered for the grand award judging.

The grand judging in the lamp building contest was conducted by Clarence F. Graser, Industrial Design Manager of International Business Machines in Poughkeepsie, Miss Jan Reynolds, Lighting and Color Consultant of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., Walter H. Garrett, Regional Engineer, Lamp Division of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, and Samuel H. Hazelton, Manager of Large Lamp Division of the General Electric Company.

Koreans Lynch Village Chief for Massacre of '51

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A former village chief was lynched Wednesday night in revenge for a massacre nine years ago during the Korean War, the Donghwa News Agency reported.

Park Yung-bo, 44, a brewery owner and former chief of Shinwon-Myon, 160 miles southeast of Seoul, was burned to death by 70 relatives of the massacred.

It was the first vengeance death since the overthrow of Syngman Rhee's regime last month.

The agency said the villagers visited the graves of the victims and then went to Park's house. They accused him of failing to bring to justice those responsible for the shootings, beat him up and th burned him.

Eight policemen and 18 soldiers rushed to the house but were surrounded and attacked. More troops and policemen were called before order was restored.

The massacre — known as the "Kochang Incident"—took place in February 1951. The mountainous area was infested with North Korean Communist guerrillas who relied on the villages for food and supplies. South Korean authorities ordered three villages in the area cleared to deny their aid to the guerrillas, and troops opened fire on villagers who refused to get out.

A court-martial later reported that 187 persons were killed. A Pusan newspaper this week quoted one survivor as saying at least 610 persons were killed, 70 per cent of them children and old men.

Within a few days McLeod will announce the appointment of a permanent membership committee or contact group. This committee will meet from time to time and review the membership situation.

To date 76 new memberships have been reported which brings the 1960-61 total to 598. McLeod and Treasurer W. J. C. Buddenhagen both suggest prompt [illegible] of all memberships to enable the early publication of the [illegible]fied membership directory.

ICC Blames Speed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Excessive speed and disregard of signals caused the derailment of New York Central's "Southwestern Limited" at Wellington, Ohio, last Jan. 10, the Interstate Commerce Commission said today.

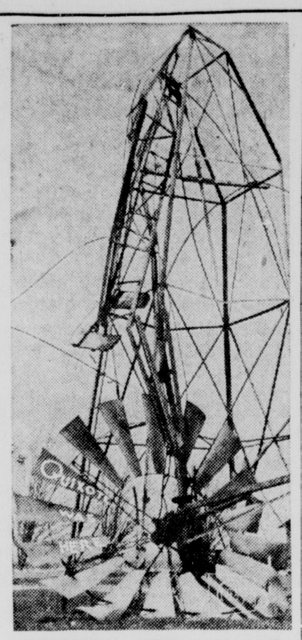

Four persons were killed and 51 injured when the eastbound St. Louis - Cleveland passenger train left the tracks at a switching crossover.

A train was under orders to change from one mainline track to another to pass a freight up ahead.

anniversary celebration proposed in the township during 1961. The Town of Esopus was founded in 1811.

Not On State Program

It was reported at the meeting Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier received notification from the State Public Works Department that the resurfacing of Route 9W from the southern boundary of Port Ewen to Rondout Creek Bridge is not on the paving program for this year.

Supervisor Roger W. Mabie reported that a letter had been received from Attorney Norman Kellar of Bontecou requesting enactment of a town ordinance to regulate motorboat traffic on the Wallkill River. Action was deferred pending further investigation.

The board received approval from the State Youth Commission of its 1960 proposed recreation project under the jurisdiction of the Ross Park Commissioners. The town has budgeted $4,000 for recreation and expects to receive $1,000 from the state, Supervisor Mabie said.

DeVall H. Dubar, building inspector reported that 10 building permits had been issued during April.

Overrules Board

It was announced that Supreme Court Justice Donald Taylor ruled recently that Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation was within its legal rights under the Transportation CorporationsLaw to install a gas transmission line in a town street. The Town Board had previously opposed the installation of the line in a section of Tilden Street, Port Ewen. Central Hudson proposes to install the gas line about 250 feet along the shoulder of the street.

The Town Board has scheduled an inspection of Warte Kill Road this afternoon on a request of a number of residents from the southern part of the township protesting the condition of the highway.

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, motors and some electronics helped pace a moderate stock market rally early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among leading issues outnumbered small losers.

The market was mostly higher from the start. Ability of the list to avoid another test of the 1960 lows Wednesday was an encouraging technical factor.

Aircrafts, chemicals, coppers, airlines, drugs and tobaccos also showed a firmer tone although most of the gains in these groups were very small.

Rails, utilities and oils were mixed.

Steels and motors showed their most unanimous rise in quite a spell. Up around a point or so were Chrysler, U.S. Steel, Ford, Lukens Steel and Republic Steel.

Police Believe Stolen Car Used In PO Burglary

Police authorities are reportedly investigating the possibility that a 1950 passenger car stolen from New York City may have been used in the burglary of the Ulster Park Post Office Tuesday night.

The car, bearing a "QU" license plate (Queens), was found by Deputy Sheriff Peter Peterson abandond in the town of Esopus. Peterson discovered the vehicle some time Wednesday night.

Burglars drove a vehicle to the rear of the post office, broke in the back door and stole a medium-sized safe. Cash, stamps and money orders made up part of the contents of the safe.

Ike Plans . . .

the kind of welcome he would receive.

He told newsmen inspecting the purported wreckage of the spy plane, Khrushchev said "The Russian people would say I was mad to welcome a man who sends spy planes over here like that."

The spy flight had changed his opinion of Eisenhower, Khrushchev added, and he would not like to be in Eisenhower's shoes when the President visits the Soviet Union.

Casts Doubt on Welcome

He said the two can discuss at Paris whether Eisenhower should visit Moscow and, as though assuming Eisenhower will make the trip anyhow, added there would be "no excesses whatsoever among the people."

Khrushchev's words startled officials here. There was an impression that the Soviet host was deliberately hanging out an "unwelcome" sign.

But authorities also studied press reports to see if the talkative Soviet Premier was just wisecracking. Moscow clamped censorship on Khrushchev's remarks after they had stirred a furor, although not until it had let through much that cast doubt on Eisenhower's welcome.

Boys State is a citizenship training program designed to meet the needs of the American youth. Boys' State training incalculates individual responsibility to the community, state and nation. The "Learn by Doing" concept is employed on the theory that good citizenship is only in part a matter of knowledge, intellect and understanding. Boys State has been aptly described as a laboratory of practical political science.

The program inspires and installs a deep sense of responsibility and obligation in the youth by educating them in the principles of Democracy and by teaching them the duties, privileges and rights of American citizenship. The program provides the boys with a taste of collegiate life and the facilities and plant of Colgate University are ideal for the accomplishments of the aims of the Boys State program. Colgate University is situated amid the rolling hills of the Chenango Valley some 1,130 feet above sea and the location is ideal.

U. S. Picks Up $13,800 In Property Auction

WATERVLIET, N. Y. (AP)—The federal government auctioned several pieces of Frank Cocca's properties Wednesday and collected $13,800 of $71,547 the convicted gambler allegedly owes in back taxes.

The Internal Revenue Service sold a diner and two stores, and purchased a used-car lot for resale after rejecting several bids as too low.

Cocca, 44, said by the State Investigation Commission to have handled five million dollars' worth of bets a year, has one year to redeem the properties, Ray J. O'Neil, revenue officer, said.

Cocca currently is fighting in the courts to stay out of jail. Dist. Atty. John T. Garry II has instituted proceedings to reinstate Cocca's one-year suspended sentence on a gambling conviction.

Area Resort Is

sents a pattern of operation of exclusively and limitation calculated to attract only guests of the Christian faith."

Commissioner Davis, who concurred in general with the decision, said that in his opinion the use of this phrase by the resort meant only that the "patronage of non-Christians is not desired or solicited."

The complaint originally named as respondents, Trowbridge Farm, R. Trowbridge, Mrs. Sylvia Trowbridge, Mrs. Sylvia Trowbridge & Son, and R. Trowbridge and son. On Sept. 8, 1959, the investigating commissioner amended the complaint by a short form order designating Sylvia Trowbridge d/b/a Trowbridge Farm as respondent.

The commissioner set forth in the opinion that the purpose of the order amending the complaint was simply to drop unnecessary respondents and to correct the complaint to conform with a statement made to the commission's field representative by Mrs. Sylvia Trowbridge that she was sole owner of Trowbridge Farm.

Dismissal Asked

Grounds urged by the respondent for dismissal of the complaint were as follows:

1. That the complaint is fatally defective in that it fails to name or designate the true and correct owner, proprietor and operator of the premises in question.

2. That no complaint, pursuant to Section 297 of the New York State Law Against Discrimination, against the true and correct owner of the premises has ever been filed.

3. That the order of the investigating commissioner amending the name of the respondent was made after the statute of limitation of 90 days, had expired.

Says Complaint Lacking

4. That the complaint fails to show that the complainant has set forth sufficient facts to constitute a violation of Section 297.

5. That this commission is without jurisdiction of the respondents.

6. That the complaint fails to allege that the respondents committed any violation.

Amendment Called Timely

The commission contended there is no merit to respondent's claim that the amendment of the complaint relating to the respondent is improper because no notice was given and the same was made more than 90 days after the act of discrimination alleged therein.

The commission further set forth in the opinion that the "amendment is timely. It does not change the substance of the complaint. It works no prejudice." It is further contended that such an amendment can be made at any time, regardless of statutory time limit.

The opinion noted that the respondent has argued that Trowbridge Farm has accepted some guests of a religious creed other than Christian, although that fact was not published in the brochure. "It is our belief and judgment that the language 'Serving Christian Clientele Since 1911' as used in the instant case, unmistakably conveys the idea that the resort solicits guests of one religious creed," the commission said in the opinion. "Such usage is in violation of the provisions of the Law Against Discrimination."

Discrimination Seen

On the record submitted and considered as a whole, the commission found that the respondent "committed an unlawful discriminatory practice" in violation of the law against discrimination in that she published, circulated, displayed and mailed a printed communication, or advertisement, to the effect that the patronage or custom of non-Christians at Trowbridge Farm, "is unwelcome, objectionable or not acceptable, desired or solicited."

The commission ordered the respondent to cease and desist from directly or indirectly publishing, circulating, issuing, displaying or mailing any written or printed communication or notice containing the language "Serving Christian Clientele Since 1911."

The commission further ordered the respondent to extend to all persons, full, equal and unsegregated accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges at the resort hotel "without regard to race, creed, color or national origin."

Annuity Recommended For Lonely Widow

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow 68 years old. I have about $20,000 in savings banks but have no stocks or bonds. Do you think I should invest some of my savings where I might get more income? I am afraid that what I have may not last until I pass away, as I have no family." M.R.

A) Yours is a heart-rending question of a sort which comes to me all too often and which permits of no easy answer. You can get a little more income from reasonably secure stocks than you are now getting from the bank. In return for this additional income, you are stepping into a new field of which you are utterly ignorant, and where you are entirely dependent on others for advice. Your safest bet in this field would be public utility stocks, such as Consolidated Edison of New York, Boston Edison, Duquesne Light of Pittsburgh, Wisconsin Public Service, Columbia Gas, and Pacific Lighting. If you were to put all your money in a group of these stocks, you would increase your income by about $300 a year, which would not spell luxury for you. I have mentioned this course although I don't advise it. After considerable thought, what I do advise you to do is ask your bank for the name of a top insurance company. See what they will offer you in the way of annual income from an annuity of $15,000. I believe it would be much higher than the 5 per cent you can safely expect in stocks. Since you have no heirs, you don't need to worry about the fact that the principal will be extinguished at your death. I should leave at least $5,000 in the savings bank as a protection against sickness or any other emergency that might arise. I sincerely hope that some plan along these lines will ease living for you.

Floor Covering Damaged

A fire believed to have started from an extension line short circuit damaged a section of floor covering in a second-floor room of a house owned by Bartholomew Kavanaugh, 92 Green Street, this morning. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks Company, Excelsior Hose and the Wiltwyck volunteers answered a call at 11:21 a. m.

Evan Davis New Head of Uptown Business Group

Evan J. Davis, proprietor of Kingston Luggage, 299 Wall Street, was elected president of the Uptown Businessmen's Association Wednesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

He succeeds Andrew Kozak, Manager of F. W. Woolworth Co., who recently submitted his resignation.

The names of Davis and Stanley London were submitted by a nominating committee. Davis took a majority of the two dozen votes. Balloting was secret.

Discusses Promotions

The association discussed its promotional activities, stressing the importance of coordinating its efforts with the other three business groups in the area—Central Businessmen's Association, Downtown Businessmen's Association and Ulster Businessmen's Association. The importance of countering the appeal of the new shopping center now under construction on Route 9W south of Saugerties was emphasized.

Albert C. Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, suggested the possibility of a gala celebration when the arterial spur is opened this summer, with a promotional pitch.

The association decided to write to the mayor asking the city to provide two sections in each block of the uptown area for short parking — up to 12 minutes.

Would Hike Rates

It also agreed to recommend to the Ulster County Board of Supervisors that parking meters in the county parking lot be raised from five cents to 10 cents an hour to correspond with the new city rates. The county has a parking lot next to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles on Main Street.

It was explained that the lot is used to a considerable extent by employes of offices and firms in the vicinity. An increase in meter fees would discourage use of the lot by such employes and increase the turnover in use by potential customers, it is believed.

Davis, a native of Scranton, Pa., has been in business in business in Kingston for the past 30 years. In addition to the luggage firm he also owns the Davis Casket Company on Smith Avenue.

At one time he sponsored Mary Jane Gift Shops in Albany and at the Breakers Hotel, Palm Beach, Fla. The shop in Albany was operated by his daughter, Mary Jane.

The luggage business, originally at 32 John Street, was established about six years ago. Three years ago it was moved to its present location.

Father of Attorney

Davis, who resides at 264 Smith Avenue, is the father of Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, president of the Ulster County Bar Association.

He is a member of the Masonic Order and the First Baptist Church on Albany Avenue.

He told The Freeman today that he hasn't formulated a program for the association yet, but will make some announcements in the near future.

REFRESHER ON FIRST AID—State troopers of the Albany section of the New York State Thruway were given a periodic refresher course in first aid Wednesday at the Kingston Station of the thruway detail. The course was given under the supervision of Sergeants Ray Dunn of Kingston and V. J. Martinez of the Albany station. A dozen troopers were given the refresher course in accordance with Red Cross official standards. Seated at the instruction table is Trooper H. G. Paulin of Albany. (Freeman photo).

plained, is to call attention to the need for protection of life and property.

To Install Controls

Representatives of the East Kingston area asked that some action be taken to eliminate dust, odor and blasting at the cement mill in that section. Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, who presided last night in the absence of Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo, said that Banyo has met with the mill's attorney and engineers and has been assured that equipment is being installed to control dust and sulphur odor.

The board appointed Robert Bonder of the town of Ulster as recreational director for the Town Youth Program during the summer months. Bonder, a teacher at the Port Ewen School, is a well-known athlete.

To Extend Streets

A motion was introduced by Councilman Ted Musialkiewicz directing the town attorney to seek extension of Codwise Street, Columbia Street and Decker Street in Sunset Park so that they may ultimately be accepted by the township. The motion was seconded by Justice of the Peace Robert Stedge and adopted by the board.

The board also adopted a resolution directing the town attorney to ascertain the legal owner of certain property located on Morton Boulevard. The motion was introduced by Musialkiewicz and seconded by Stedge.

It was reported that an application for a new station wagon for use by the town constables has been rejected by New York State because bids have been closed for the year 1960.

Judge Stedge, who was appointed recently by Supervisor Banyo as chairman of a committee seeking redistricting voting areas in the town, reported that no definite plan has yet been established. Preliminary studies have been made.

fire rockets which will explode on the aggressor's territory in the very first minutes of war."

Tass in its account said one news conference questioner referred to the exhibit of Powers' alleged effects. Among these, according to the London Daily Worker's account, is a piece of silk bearing the Stars and Stripes and an inscription in 14 languages saying:

"I am an American and do not speak your language. I need food, shelter and assistance. I will not harm you. I bear no malice toward your people. If you help me you will be rewarded."

Account of Exchange

Tass' account today said this exchange took place at the news conference:

Q. You have probably noticed a placard among the fragments of the plane urging assistance to the pilot. What do you think its authors meant?

A. We assisted the pilot when he flew into our territory and gave him due welcome. If there are other such uninvited guests, we shall receive them just as "hospitably" as this one. We shall try him—try him severely as a spy."

The account of the printed appeal for help would indicate that the man carrying it was not necessarily expected to commit suicide on capture, as the Russians have claimed.

Tass gave no indication when Powers would be put on trial. There has been some speculation in Western capitals that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might free the flier as a propaganda gesture to demonstrate Soviet confidence in its military might.

Ike Notes Difficulties

President Eisenhower, at his news conference Wednesday, pointed up the difficulties the United States would face in doing anything effective to assist Powers.

He said "it would be an internal matter there and we would have to do it with the permission of the other country."

The agency said Powers, 30-year-old former test pilot from Pound, Va., told interrogators:

"I plead guilty to the fact that I flew over Soviet territory and over given points indicated on the route of the flight."

Charge Expected

The charge had been expected since the Soviet government, in a note to the United States Tuesday protesting the flight, said the flier would be "brought to account under the laws of the Soviet state."

Powers was captured near Sverdlovsk, in the central Urals 900 miles east of Moscow. He has been brought to the Soviet capital but so far the Soviets have not granted a U. S. Embassy request for an interview with him.

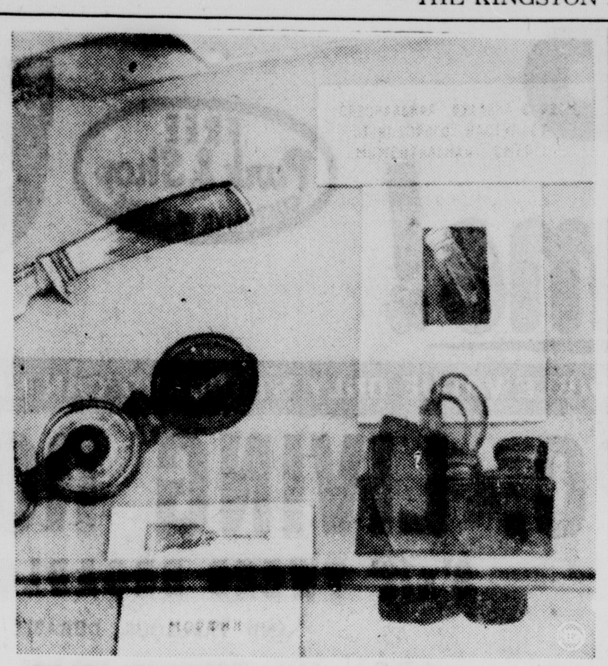

Ave Says U.S. Bungled Plane

DETROIT (AP) — Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, told a news conference here Wednesday night that the Eisenhower administration had "bungled" the incident of a United States spy plane being downed in Russia.

Harriman said, "This, coupled with the President's announcement that nuclear tests will be resumed, will produce a very deep shock around the world.

"It shows the administration was not on the job."

Harriman came to Detroit to preside today at a public hearing on a Democratic national campaign platform.

Hotel Lucerne Closing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The 178-room Lucerne Hotel, which cost four million dollars when it was built in 1956, has been ordered to close next Sunday because it's losing money.

U.S. Dist. Judge Emmett Choate acted Wednesday after a court trustee reported the hotel had only 60 rooms occupied and was losing $300 to $400 a day.

Others among Miami Beach's 378 hotels reportedly are facing financial difficulties. Already undergoing corporate reorganization under federal court direction are the Delmonico, Cadillac, Sorrento and Saxony. Foreclosure suits have been filed in circuit court against the Plymouth and Lombardy.

SAC Crews End Space Flight in Test Laboratory

OMAHA (AP) — Two Strategic Air Command combat-ready B52 crews have completed 15-day simulated space flight performance tests in a laboratory space ship, emerging somewhat fatigued but enthusiastic.

During the two tests the crews were on duty four hours and off duty two hours around the clock. They sat at flight stations and operated consoles, doing arithmetic, perception, audio and other tests.

SAC headquarters said today these were the first such tests for Air Force crews under such circumstances. No other human factors experiments have been attempted before with crews such as these, confined to such a small area for such a long time, SAC said.

The study was conducted by Lockheed Aircraft Human Factors Research Laboratory under contract with Wright Air Development Division. Dr. W. D. Chiles of Wright and Dr. Oscar Adams of Lockheed were in charge.

Drs. Chiles and Adams said combat-ready SAC crewmen were chosen because they represent a cross section of the personnel that would be required to spend a long time in confined quarters under operational flight conditions.

Dr. Chiles said that if the tests, when finally analyzed, show that six men following such a work-rest schedule can do the work which normally requires 12 men, "We will save tremendously in the amount of hours required to send a manned rocket into outer space."

"This saving might mean that we can start the exploration of outer space several years sooner," he added.

The crews came from the 4135th Strategic Wing, Eglin AFB, Fla., and the 4245th Strategic Wing, Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Senate Is Ready To Act on Armed Service Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 1,182,094,000 military construction authorization bill for the year beginning July 1 was ready today for Senate action.

The Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday unanimously approved the bill, which is $78,271,000 more than the House authorized. However, the bill authorizes $37,462,000 less than budget requests to the Senate.

As approved by the committee, the measure would authorize $147,482,000 for the Army; $125,952,000 for the Navy; $725,539,000 for the Air Force; $20,000,000 for the Defense Department; $109,983,000 in deficiency authorizations for the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Department; $52,355,000 for reserve components; $217,000, deficiency authorization for the Army National Guard; and $566,000 deficiency authorization for the Army reserve.

Upstate New York projects included in the Senate-approved authorization bill:

Army—U.S. Military Academy, utilities, $350,000.

Air Force—Griffiss AFB, Rome, operational, training, maintenance and administrative facilities, $1,725,000; Plattsburgh AFB operational facilities, $80,000; Stockbridge Test Annex, Rome, research, development and test facilities, $2,653,000.

Army National Guard — Schenectady, training facilities, $108,000.

Army Reserve—Reserve Center, Albany, training facilities, $61,000; Reserve Center, Elmira (Horseheads), training facilities, $61,000; Reserve Center Penn Yan, training facilities, $190,000.

In addition to the items for which specific amounts would be authorized, the Air Force secretary would be authorized to construct 135 family housing units at Griffiss AFB.

Oddly enough, the practice of touching wood on every occassion of good fortune was started by those who wanted to show their gratitude to Christ for dying on a wooden cross.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—There are days when reading the financial news can be right confusing.

Item: Saving is the best hope of a better economic future because out of savings by individuals and corporations come the funds for investment, and from that flows more jobs and more goods. This on the say-so of the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, William McChesney Martin Jr.

Spending Good Sign

Item: Increased spending by consumers this spring is the welcome sign that the economy has weathered the business slowdown and is a prime reason that all will be copasetic again. This on the say so of the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, Raymond J. Saulnier.

Item: Public confidence is shown by the growing total of installment debt and by the various polls that report consumer intentions to buy more, on or off the cuff. This on the say-so of finance companies and pollsters.

Shake it all down a bit and it doesn't look quite so contradictory.

The truth is that even in hard times some people save. And it's true that these are the funds that others borrow for expansion of business or for taking the risks that—when they pan out — mean new companies, new industries.

It's also true that everyone goes on spending, in varying amounts — because he wants to, or because he's an easy target at times, for salesmanship, or because he has to, like it or not. And the ups and downs of that spending often chart the cycle of good times and bad..

More Going Into Debt

And increasingly, Americans are going into debt. For the business man it's the way to increase activity and grow. For the individual it's often the only way to enjoy today the things he feels he needs.

This steady growth of debt, at all levels of the economy, alarms some folk. To others it's a sign of vitality and confidence. Call it debt or credit, but a large part of the economy is based upon it. And without it there's doubt that the marvels of mass production could have been achieved.

So all three—saving, spending and borrowing—have their place. And there's something good to be said for all—but only, in each instance, if not carried to excess.

Another Factor Confusing

Yet still another thing about these can be confusing. For all three may rise at the same time, as contradictory to each other as they may seem at first glance.

This has been going on of late. A postwar high in personal savings was set last year. Individuals added 31 billion dollars to their holdings of currency, bank deposits savings, accounts, securities, and reserves in private insurance and pension programs.

They also borrowed record amounts. Net indebtedness in consumer and security loans and in mortgages rose by 19½ billion dollars.

The latest figures on consumer spending show it tootling along at an annual rate of 317 billion dollars.

With all three that high, everyone should be happy—those who are looking for savings to tap for investments; those with goods or services to sell on time; those with goods or services to sell for cash.

Background to the Summit No. 3

Future of West Berlin Dominant Issue Before Conferees in Paris

By WILLIAM L RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

A dozen years ago, Joseph Stalin wanted West Berlin badly enough to risk war. He failed.

The future of West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside Communist-ruled territory, is a dominant issue before President Eisenhower, President De Gaulle, Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev at their Paris summit meeting beginning Monday.

Won't Wait Forever

Khrushchev says he wants the Western allies out of Berlin. He wants it made a free city. He will not wait forever. If the West refuses to come to terms, eventually he will act on his own and sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany, which then will lay claim to West Berlin and end Allied rights there. That is the threat.

The campaign to get the United States out of Germany—and thus out of Europe—is a long range one. There is unlikely to be much agreement on the questions of Berlin and divided Germany. But the potential dynamite in them keeps the West preoccupied while the Soviets are busy elsewhere.

In November 1958, Khrushchev exploded a bomb. He said he would end Soviet occupation of East Berlin, demanded the Allies get out of West Berlin and declared he would turn it into an international "free city" within a specified time. The West called this an ultimatum and said it would stay in West Berlin.

Khrushchev backed away. His meeting at Camp David last September with President Eisenhower brought a pledge of no deadline for Berlin negotiations. Khrushchev hailed "The Spirit of Camp David," but the spirit soon began to fade. Five months later, Khrushchev renewed his threats, and repeated them again, forcefully in April. But he set no time limit.

Slow Approach Likely

Khrushchev likely will proceed slowly with regard to Berlin, seeking a formula under which the West might agree some day to withdraw. But it is highly unlikely the West will buy any such idea.

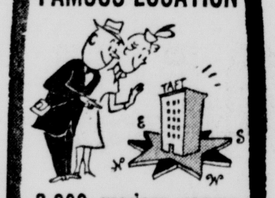

West Berlin has been a thorn in the side of Communism, a prosperous Western city and window to the regimented East, deep inside territory Communists call their own. Khrushchev might risk much to remove such a thorn.

Some day, so the Communist thinking seems to go, he who controls all Germany can hope eventually to control all Europe, and he who controls all Europe—

Convenient Diversion

But that's some time in the future, when the Communists feel strong enough and confident enough to move in Europe. For the present, Berlin and Germany will do as convenient means of diverting world attention from Communist activities elsewhere—particularly in the under-developed world.

Presidential Aspirant's Mother-in-Law Ill

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Jackson H. Boyd, mother-in-law of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), was in serious condition at a hospital Wednesday from an attack of broncial pneumonia.

Mrs. Boyd, 80, maintains homes at Clearwater Beach and Geneseo, N.Y.

Her husband said she has had a weak heart for several years. "There is no immediate danger but we can't be sure how this thing will go. The doctor says her heart is standing up very well and the infection is being reduced," he said.

Mrs. Boyd is the daughter of the late John Hay, private secretary to President Abraham Lincoln from 1861 to 1865 and secretary of state from 1897 to 1905.

She was the wife of the late Sen. James W. Wadsworth of New York.

Her husband said Mrs. Symington and a son, Reverdy Wadsworth of Geneseo, came to Clearwater a few days ago.

Marine Supply Fire Damage Is $250,000

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Fire wrecked a marine supply company Wednesday, causing an estimated $250,000 damage. Two firemen were injured fighting the blaze.

The Collins Marine Supply Co. was gutted and nearly 50 small boats were burned. The two-story stone and frame building was valued at $100,000, the owners said.

The cause was not immediately determined.

4-H Club News

Dress Revue Planned

The 4-H district dress revue will be held, Saturday, May 14, at 7:30 p. m. at the George Washington School, Washington Avenue, Kingston, for 4-H girls 14 years of age and older. They will exhibit clothing articles which they have made during the year in their 4-H projects.

The revue is open to the public. The girls will have many fine garments which they will model. Judging of the girls and garments will start at 1 p. m. and continue throughout the afternoon.

Rabbit Project

The 4-H rabbit project is now underway in Ulster county through the sponsorship of the Ulster Kiwanis Club. Money given by the organization was used to purchase pedigreed New Zealand white rabbits.

Five 4-H'ers were selected to take part in the project. They are, Karen Kearney, of Hurley; Alyce Wodischeck and Harold Hommel Jr., of North Flatbush; Wayne Hyatt, Clintondale, and Robert A. Sparaco, of Marlboro. Each 4-H'er receives a junior buck and a bred doe or one nearly of age to breed.

The member taking part in the project this year will give a pair of rabbits to some other 4-H'er wishing to start a rabbit project.

As part of this project 4-H'ers will learn the care required by the rabbits, and the proper feed and management necessary to have healthy rabbits is emphasized. For project completion, the club member must fill out and return to the 4-H club office a record sheet explaining the project.

House Approves Soil, Water Center at Cornell

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $350,000 appropriation for construction of a soil and water research center at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., was approved Wednesday by the House.

Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) said the facility would play an important role in conserving the nation's natural resources.

The money was included in an Agriculture Department appropriations bill that was adopted by a voice vote in the House. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Ostertag, an Appropriations Committee member, said funds for the Ithaca project were transferred by the committee from other budget items and did not add to the total amount requested by President Eisenhower.

New York congressmen had asked for $1,400,000 for the center.

The University said Wednesday the department would be the first of its kind in the country. New anti-cancer chemicals also will be tested in the department. Dr. Howard J. Schaeffer will head the department.

U.S. and Soviet Scientists Will Exchange Visits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission today announced two exchange visits between American and Soviet nuclear scientists during this month and June.

AEC Chairman John A. McCone said the visits carry out some provisions of the memorandum on cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy signed by the United States and the U.S.S.R. last November.

The first exchange visit, on May 12, will send five U.S. scientists to Soviet high energy physics establishments and five Soviet experts to visit five controlled thermonuclear research installations in this country.

A second exchange scheduled to begin in June will send a U.S. thermonuclear research team to Soviet laboratories and a Russian team to high energy physics installations in the United States.

U.S. scientists going to Russia include Dr. Robert E. Marshak of the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y., and Dr. Robert R. Wilson of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Steelworkers Prexy Quits to Save Unity

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Francis Brewster, whose suspension by Carrier Corp. touched off a strike, has resigned as president of United Steelworkers Union Local 5895.

Approximately 400 union members still are on strike against the air - conditioning manufacturer, which has resumed production.

Frank Sopper, vice president of the local, will head the unit until elections in June.

Brewster said he was resigning "to stop dissension among union members."

He is the second union leader involved in the strike to withdraw. John Kolakowski, who organized the 3,070 hourly workers at Carrier, recently took a leave of absence.

The union and Carrier still are negotiating the union's initial contract with the firm.

The strike, triggered March 2 by disciplinary action against Brewster and four other local officers, was reported settled March 27. However, the union resumed the strike when it learned that Brewster's suspension remained in effect.

Kennedy Leads With 31.7 PC Votes for Nomination

KID DYNAMITE—Four-year-old Laurent Maret is probably the youngest jiu-jitsu expert anywhere. The youngster, wearing the traditional oriental robe, relaxes after a session in his home town of Nice, France.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) leads Democratic presidential hopefuls with 31.7 per cent of the convention votes needed for nomination.

Kennedy has 241½ convention votes in 15 states, according to unofficial tabulations. The winner of the nomination must have 761.

Kennedy's total does not reflect his victories in Tuesday's West Virginia and Nebraska primaries. Those two states have a total of 41 votes. But primary election results there are not binding on elected delegates.

The Kennedy total includes five votes in Pennsylvania, Utah and North Dakota that switched to him out of the column of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Humphrey quit the race after Kennedy defeated him in West Virginia.

The only other real switch from Humphrey's 37 unofficial vote total before West Virginia has been 1½ votes to Adlai E. Stevenson in Nevada and North Dakota. Some of the 37 merely switched to "uncommitted." Much of the Humphrey strength had been expected to go to Stevenson, unavowed candidate, if Humphrey couldn't make it.

Taking into account primary and state convention results, plus first ballot preferences obtained in Associated Press polls, the unofficial Democratic vote lineup stood today:

Kennedy 241½, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 67, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 51½, Humphrey 21½, Stevenson 5, others 114, Uncommitted 265½—total 767 out of total convention vote of 1,521.

The Republican National Convention picture:

With 666 needed to nominate, Vice President Richard M. Nixon has 442, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona 29, and 201 are uncommitted for a total of 672 delegates out of 1,331 to be named. The GOP has only full-vote delegates.

Area Firms Earn Awards in 1960 Safety Campaign

Area industrial firms were represented at the 35th annual state-wide accident prevention campaign award dinner of Associated Industries of New York State, Inc., held Monday night at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie.

The safety campaign was conducted for 13 weeks, Jan. 3 to March 26, with 51 entries in the area with 27,600 employes participating. A total of 13,000,000 man hours were listed by the workers. The Mid-Hudson Industrial Association was co-sponsor.

Two Ulster County industrial plants were among those to receive five-year awards in the accident prevention campaign. They were, the Callanan Road Improvement Co., Plant 3, Kingston, and Hercules Powder Co., Port Ewen plant.

Included in industrial plants to receive certificates of achievement were the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., and International Business Machines Corp., Data Systems Division and Federal Systems Division.

Philip Lovejoy, educator and executive, was guest speaker. His topic was: "Let's Play It Safe."

U.S. Calls Off Communications Satellite Try

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States again today postponed an attempt to launch an immense balloon communications satellite into orbit about the earth. Technical problems with the carrier rocket blocked the effort.

The launching of the 100-foot sphere will be the first step in a long range investigation of the use of satellites for global communications.

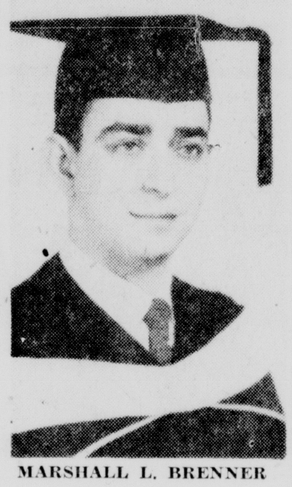

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the launching was postponed "because of indications of technical problems in the command guidance system in the first stage."

No new firing date was set. If the trouble is minor, a launching could be tried again Friday.

Protest Fee Limits

PARIS (AP) — French doctors and dentists are staging a series of protest strikes against proposed changes in the social security law to limit the fees they can charge social security patients.

The proposed fee scale would limit charges to $1.50 for office visits and $2 for house calls outside Paris, and $2 for office visits and $2.50 for house calls in the capital.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A man who allegedly shot a 17-year-old boy to death and attempted the shootings of the boy's mother, brother, two sisters and a deputy sheriff has been declared insane and unable to stand trial.

Jose Jiminez, 46, of Rochester was committed to the State Hospital here for the mental examination Wednesday by Judge Clarence Henry of Monroe County Court.

Jiminez allegedly shot Frederick Elsaw to death here last Feb. 18.

RETURNING A BOY'S TELEPHONE CALL

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day while I was out a boy I know called me on the telephone. When I arrived home, my mother told me that John called. I was about to call him back when my mother advised me not to, saying that it was not proper for a girl to call a boy, and that if he wanted to talk to me he would call me back. I disagreed with my mother and told her that I thought it very rude not to return his call. Am I right.

Answer: Unless it was a boy you know very well and speak to often on the telephone, or someone who wanted some specific information, you should have waited for him to call you again. Your calling him could very easily give him the impression that you are over-anxious.

Boasting

Dear Mrs. Post: May we please have your views on boasting? It seems to me that it is just as vulgar to boast of the affluence of one's self, family and friends as to wear a diamond the size of a hen's egg. I was taught that well-bred persons do not mention the financial status of family and friends; only their fine character are mentioned. Am I antique? Have standards changed?

Answer: You are entirely right. It is just as vulgar today as it was yesterday, to boast of one's own wealth or the wealth of one's family or friends.

Bridal Shower After Elopement

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend was to have been married next month at a large wedding. I had planned to give her a shower before the wedding. However, two weeks ago she and her fiance eloped and were married in another city. I would like to know if it would still be proper to give her a bridal shower?

Answer: There is no reason why you may not still give her a shower if you like.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her booklet No. 504, entitled "Etiquette of Table Setting," send 25 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

MORRIS, Conn. (AP) — Gov. Abraham Ribicoff was about to address a political meeting here one night. "The governor will enlighten us . . ." said the toastmaster—and then a flash of lightning the lights went out. When the meeting resumed, Ribicoff quipped: "Once in a while, nature takes a hand in politics."

Kennedy to Talk At Bronx Fete; Titans Hold Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's primary victory in West Virginia has won some public endorsements by powerful Democrats in downstate New York, but the high command remains non-committal.

The Massachusetts' senator will be in this Democratic stronghold tonight, and thousands of the party faithful will get a close look at him.

Guest of Chiefs

Kennedy will be the principal speaker at the annual $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner of the Bronx Democratic organization at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Before the dinner, he will be the guest of Democratic National Committeeman Carmine G. DeSapio and State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast at a reception at the National Democratic Club. All of the party's county chairmen in the state have been invited.

Prendergast and DeSapio, leader of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic Organization, have been urging party leaders to remain neutral—publicly at least—on a presidential choice. Neutrality could improve the bargaining position of New York State's delegation to the national convention. The 114-vote delegation will be the largest in the convention, where a majority of 761 votes will be needed to nominate.

Prendergast and DeSapio said in a joint statement Wednesday that the results of the West Virginia primary "will be a highly significant and serious fact" in the deliberations of the state's convention delegation, which will be chosen next month. The two leaders said Kennedy had "proved himself to be a very strong and very able contender" for the presidential nomination.

Buckley for Senator

Despite the continuous noncommittal stand by DeSapio and Prendergast, Rep Charles A. Buckley, party leader of the Bronx, came out openly for Kennedy. He said:

"I am definitely for the fellow, but I want to make it clear that I am not speaking for the state. I am speaking for my own county."

City Councilman Joseph T. Sharkey, Brooklyn Democratic leader, also gave Kennedy his personal endorsement.

And in suburban Westchester County, a Republican stronghold, Democratic County Chairman William F. Luddy said the West Virginia primary results had the effect of making Kennedy the first choice of Westchester members of the convention delegation.

4 Persons Hurt In 2-Car Crash

Four persons were injured Wednesday afternoon in a two-car collision on Route 9W about a mile and a half south of the Highland traffic circle.

Three of the injured persons were thrown from one of the cars on impact.

In Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, with a laceration of the leg and a bump on the head, was Michael Luck, 26, Poughkeepsie, driver of a 1960 station wagon.

Harvey Terwilliger, 59, Dumont, N. J., operator of the car, a 1950 sedan, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, with concussion, multiple contusions and abrasions.

Terwilliger and two passengers in his car were flung from the vehicle. The passengers were his wife, 57, who received a possible rib fracture and laceration of the scalp, and Katherine Schiel, 89, concussion, laceration of the eyelid, and a fracture of the left radius.

Trooper Wallace Mahan of the Highland state police reported that the Luck car was proceeding north and the Terwilliger vehicle south. The Terwilliger car, negotiating a left turn, skidded into the northbound lane.

DRAMATIC MOSAIC DESIGNS

For your smart living room let us quote on mosaic tile panels that you can create—perhaps a lyric musical motif, a flower design, an abstract figure, or for your seaman a graceful hand finished sea shell pattern.

You can have picture plaques in one or more colors, like a gay bathroom panel, or a hard to fit wall niche—the wall above the fireplace.

The story can be definite—tangy in colorful baked tile or in flowing lines as you choose. Should you prefer an exclusive concept come in and unfold your star vision dream. Tile can be dramatic.

Miss N.Y. State To Visit Ulster Town Saturday

The Ulster Businessmen's Association will welcome Bonnie Jo Marquis, Miss New York State, in front of the Chambers School at 1:45 p. m. Saturday and conduct her on a tour of the business area of the township.

The ceremonies, which include presentation of a token of appreciation for her visit by President Harold E. Macholdt Jr., of the association, are arranged in conjunction with the sponsorship of the Miss New York State Pageant by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The businessmen's association is offering its support to the local Jaycees in an effort to have Kingston established as the "home" of the annual pageant.

A welcoming committee will be present on the lawn in front of the Chambers School Saturday afternoon. After a brief welcoming ceremony a motorcade will proceed through the business area.

Penicillin Helps

Control of VD Still Problem, Physicians Told

NEW YORK (AP)—Penicillin is helping abolish venereal disease, but positive control still presents a public health problem, says Dr. Norbert G. Rausch.

Dr. Rausch, of Buffalo, N.Y., a consultant of the Erie County Department of Health, spoke Wednesday before the New York State Medical Society.

The use of penicillin, he said, has resulted in a "tremendous decrease in the total number of reported cases (of venereal disease) during the past 15 years."

But, he added, "those who expected the abolition of venereal disease were wrong. Its control is still a tremendous public health problem."

Two Are Still Serious; Hurt In Creek Plunge

Two men injured Saturday night when their car smashed through the steel railing of the Route 28 bridge over Esopus creek and plunged 25 feet to the creek below were reported still serious today at Kingston Hospital.

Joseph J. Rauch, 18 of Bayside, L. I., driver of the 1956 sedan, was described as serious and Richard Bendix, 21, of Flushing, L. I., as apparently serious.

The car, proceeding at a high rate of speed, struck the steel beam which slants up from the bridge, mounted the beam and flipped over, landing on its roof on rocks at the edge of the creek. It took away the top part of the railing as it went over.

The car was proceeding toward Kingston at the time.

Medical Group Is Told of Package Hospital Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—A prepackaged hospital for emergency use, which can be set up in 37 minutes, has been described to the New York State Medical Society.

Dr. Joseph T. Roberts, of Buffalo, N.Y., Wednesday told of a demonstration of a 250-cot hospital set up in a garage of the Buffalo Veterans Administration Hospital. In little more than half an hour, he said, all was ready to start treating "victims" of a disaster.

All equipment comes in cardboard boxes, he said, in a trailer truck, and is supplied by the Civil Defense Commission.

The packaged hospital provides complete facilities including cots, operating room and equipment, a room for treating patients in shock, an obstetrics ward, special wards for burned and injured persons, and two generators to supply electricity and power.

Dr. Roberts said even a lightly trained crew can set up the hospital. He said average citizens will be needed to help doctors and nurses in manning the emergency hospitals, and suggested that various civic groups receive some training along those lines.

BERLIN (AP) — U. S. forces in West Berlin have been told they mustn't use slingshots or bows and arrows in the populated parts of the city.

Will Dedicate Education Bldg. Addition May 19

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will dedicate next Thursday a modern, 10-story addition to the Roman Classical State Education Building.

The five-million-dollar addition was built at the rear of the 48-year-old main building, which faces the state capitol.

A formal convocation of the State Board of Regents and a meeting of the School Boards of the Northeastern States will be held at the same time as the dedication.

Carl Larsen, state architect, said the two types of buildings did not clash. The addition has bands of windows alternating with bands of white Vermont marble. The original building the same height as the addition, is dominated by 36 Corinthian columns that span its front.

Larsen said the main building was "an architectural monument" but anything but a practical office building. The addition will have twice as much office space as the main structure.

Since Vermont marble was used in both structures, the addition eventually will weather to the color as the older building, which has been dulled by time, and the two structures will blend, Larsen said.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said the addition will allow the department to centralize its 1,150 employes and save the $200,000-a-year rent it pays for space in seven buildings in Albany.

Shock Is Fatal To Well Driller

NEW MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—A 47-year-old well driller was killed by electric shock Wednesday while at work in nearby Sherman.

The victim was identified as Herman Jansen of New Fairfield, Conn.

Police said Jansen was hauling a steel barrel up an incline with the help of an assistant, Edwin Baldurich, 24, of Bridgewater. A steel cable was attached to the barrel, and the cable to a rig.

Jansen was working with the steel barrel when the cable came in contact with a high tension line just six feet above the cable attached to the barrel.

Jansen was dead on arrival at the New Milford Hospital.

Dr. Chase, 82, Windham Native; Dies Wednesday

AMHERST, N. H. (AP) — Dr. Carroll Chase, 82, who gave up the practice of medicine to become a world-famous philatelist, died Wednesday.

He published several books on stamps and postal affairs, won a number of medals, was a member of the expert committee of the Academie de Philatelie of France, and enrolled on the British roll of distinguished philatelists.

He joined the French army as a surgeon before the United States entered World War 1. After the war he returned to the United States to pursue a full-time study of stamps.

He lived in France from 1929 until he was forced out by the Germans shortly before Pearl Harbor. Since that time he made his home in New Hampshire.

Dr. Chase was born at Windham, N. Y., and received his medical degree from Long Island College Hospital in 1899.

Nurse Awarded $40,000 in Suit Against Socialite

NEW YORK (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury has awarded $40,000 damages to a registered nurse in her assault suit against Mrs. Barbara Whitney Peck, Long Island socialite.

A jury of 11 men and a woman deliberated about four hours before returning its verdict Wednesday night. Counsel for Mrs. Peck sought to have the verdict set aside on grounds that it was excessive. Justice Louis J. Cappozzoli reserved decision.

The nurse, Eileen Hession, had sought $250,000 damages for the alleged assault seven years ago. She contended that she was twice assaulted and struck with a judo blow while serving as Mrs. Peck's nurse at the Sabattis, N. Y., home of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. The latter is Mrs. Peck's brother.

Mrs. Peck, a resident of Old Westbury, N. Y., denied ever striking Miss Hession. She testified she saw the nurse reading her personal mail, remonstrated with her and "pushed her with my left hand and I took the letters with my right hand."

Hospital Service Topic at Rotary

In observance of National Hospital Week, the program for the Kingston Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday featured a talk on hospital service, personnel and costs by Rotarian Edwin B. Bolz, associate administrator of the Benedictine Hospital. A movie depicting hospital care and the many skills employed, which was furnished by the Blue Cross, was shown.

The administrator brought out in his talk that in a single year about 24 million enter hospitals and approximately a million and a half hospital personnel take care of these patients.

Complicated medical care requires new services and skills, he said, and new triumphs of medical science mean not only new supplies and equipment for the hospital but also new skills for hospital personnel.

He stressed the fact that a hospital day means a 24-hour day, seven days a week and that a patient's care may call many trained teams into action day and night.

The work of the professional service teams and the general service department teams were explained by the speaker.

Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the Ulster County TB Hospital, was in charge of the program.

Students Are Held in $8,000 Dozer Damage

MADRID, N.Y. (AP) — Three Clarkson College students who, police say, drove a bulldozer over a 25-foot embankment, were in St. Lawrence County Jail today.

They are being held for grand jury action on felony charges of malicious mischief.

State Police said the trio, Robert Burns, 19, of East Valley Stream, David C. Swanson, 19, of Brocton, and Alfred E. Damon, 18, of Rochester, found the bulldozer parked at the Town of Madrid dump April 29 and drove it 120 feet and over the embankment.

William Dixon, town supervisor, estimated damage to the vehicle at $8,000. It is owned by the town.

The three waived examination before Justice of the Peace Lloyd Finnegan after they were arrested Tuesday night.

Costello Ties Kingston High School Golf Record With 67

Equals Bruhn's Mark as Maroon Swamps Middies

William (Buzzy) Costello, Kingston High's newest golfing phenom, equalled the school record with a 3-under-par 67 Wednesday, as the Maroons routed Middletown High, 12-0, in a DUSO League contest on Twaalfskill's soggy fairways.

Costello carded nines of 34-33 to tie the mark set by teammate, Mike Bruhn, during the 1959 season.

Bruhn posted 37-34-71 yesterday and Rich Barthel had 41-41-82 and Bob Bechtold 37-39-76 for a team aggregate of 295, six strokes under the school record set last year.

Lauren Beaver, a member of the Big Four, played the No. 5 slot, shooting 35-38-73. Had he appeared in his normal No. 4 spot, it is conceivable Coach Harold Hathaway's squad would have set a new record.

Has Five Birdies

Costello, the most consistent low shooter of the season, picked up five birdies and had one bogie in a brilliant exhibition of pitching and putting.

He twice birdied the par 5 seventh hole, after narrowly missing eagles. On the first swing around the course he birdied the No. 2 hole from 20 feet. He drove the fourth green but missed the eagle from 15 feet and settled for his birdie.

Buzzy launched the second nine with a 10-foot birdie putt on a traditionally tricky green. He then reeled off five straight pars. He hit the 16th green (No. 7) on his second shot but missed a bold try for an eagle from 6 feet. Pars on the last two holes enabled him to tie Bruhn's record.

Eight Keglers in Contention For NYS Match Game Title

Eight of the valley's top keglers are still in contention for the New York State Match Game championship with the finals scheduled next Tuesday night at Ferraro's Bowlerama. Twelve bowlers started the final round Tuesday at the Middletown Lanes. They were the top scorers of an original field which had rolled for two previous weeks.

Veteran Tenpin Executive Is Unanimous Pick

Francis X. (Frank) Turck was the unanimous choice for president of the Kingston Bowling Association at the annual election Tuesday night at the YMCA.

Turck, first vice president, had been acting president since the resignation of Larry Petersen Jr. several weeks ago. All other recommendations of the nominating committee were also unanimously approved.

The new slate of officers, besides the president, will be:

Robert Jones, first vice president; Chester Smith, second vice president; Philip Battaglia, third vice president; Charles Forst, fourth vice president; and William Mohr, fifth vice president.

Richard (Dick) Waltman was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The committeemen are: George Brown, Harry Enders, Tracy Jordan, Joseph Mannello, Larry McHugh, Charles Raible, Albert Sonnenberg, Harold Stewart and Benjamin Toffel.

Edward Norton was elected to life membership.

Veteran Executive

A resident of Bearsville, Turck is a veteran bowling executive, having served on the executive committee of the KBA for five years, including vice presidencies.

He is a 175-average bowler with about nine years experience and is a member of the Ferraro Classic, Junior Major and Tavern Association leagues. He was president of the Junior Major and secretary of the Ferraro Classic. He is employed at Forst Packing in Kingston.

The annual convention transacted routine business and also heard a report from Robert Lynch, regional representative of the American Bowling Congress.

Golembiewski Wins Masters From Steve Nagy

TOLEDO, Ohio. (AP) — Billy Golembiewski, tired of finishing second, has won his first major tenpin title — the American Bowling Congress Masters Championship.

The slim youngster who left Grand Rapids, Mich., four years ago for bigtime bowling in Detroit, lost this same crown a year ago in the last game.

Golembiewski, 30, was ahead after three games in the crucial match with Ray Bluth of St. Louis last year. He stumbled to 175 in the last line, while Bluth rolled 213, winning the title by an 827-817 margin.

Billy ran second in the most grueling match contest of all last December, when deadly Don Carter of St. Louis snatched the World's Invitational Championship away from him in the final round.

Billy was at his sharpshooting best Wednesday night, when he met blustery old-pro Steve Nagy for the 1960 Masters trophy. Golembiewski blasted 181-224-210-259 —874 against 755 for the 47-year-old captain of the St. Louis Falstaffs team.

Golembiewski earned $2,280. Nagy picked up $1,900.

Snyder Leads Field in ENYGA

John Snyder Jr. of Troy Country Club won his second victory in three Eastern New York Golf Association tournament starts Wednesday leading the field with a 3-over-par 73 at rain-soaked Van Schaick Island Country Club in Cohoes.

The youthful capital district star carded nines of 38-35 against par of 35-35-70. Runner-up was Harry Gibbs of the Antlers in Amsterdam with 74.

Ray Quinn of Van Schaick and Leonard Wood of Ballston carded identical 79-79-70s to pace the Class B field. The Class C leaders were James DeLuca of Hoosick and Forrest Case Sr. of Van Schaick.

Don Fullmer Wins Over Stefan Redl In Dull Battle

By GERALD B. TRAPP

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — Manager Marv Jenson says 21-year-old Don Fullmer is going to hasten the retirement of NBA middleweight king Gene Fullmer, Don's older brother.

Gene smilingly agreed after watching Don score a unanimous 10-round decision Wednesday night over Stefan Redl of Passaic, N. J.

"He won't have to fight for it. I'll give it to him when he's ready," Gene said. The Fullmers are natives of this mining town.

Don is the youngest of the fighting Fullmer clan, which also includes lightweight Jay. His weight and the heat in the tiny (700-seat) West Jordan Athletic Club gym were factors in his victory against Redl. Fullmer outweighed Redl 155¾ to 149 for the televised bout.

Jenson, who handles the Fullmer brothers, says he wants Don to get more experience. But he said he expects Don to be a title contender in few years.

The bout was slow except for the eighth and 10th rounds when Fullmer scored with a series of right and left hooks. Redl's best round was the sixth when he shook Fullmer with two hard right hooks to the jaw.

Both men said the heat affected their ability to throw hard punches. The 91-degree temperature at Salt Lake City Wednesday was an all-time record for the date and the fight started before sundown.

Referee Del Markham scored the fight 97-94; Judge Ken Gardner had it 100-94 and Judge Norm Jorgensen 99-92, all for Fullmer. The Associated Press gave the decision to Fullmer 99-95.

Palmer, Hogan Favored to Win

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who has been able to win most anywhere except here, and Ben Hogan, who has done more winning here than anywhere else, were the favorites as the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament opened today.

Palmer has played in this tournament five times and won only $994, with a tie for twelfth his highest finish. But he has taken five tournaments along the tour and banked about $50,000 this year, so he was the logical one to name for top money in Colonial.

Hogan, five times champion of Colonial and winner of $28,000 in 13 appearances, is defending champion.

The field of 54, that includes all winners along the tour except Sam Snead and has National Open king Bill Casper, National PGA champion Bob Rosburg and Masters champion Palmer, had final tune-ups Wednesday.

The tournament, a 72-hole affair, runs through Sunday.

Sad Sam Is 1-0 Winner Over Phils

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ed Mathews hit two homers and drove in five runs for Milwaukee, and Elroy Face, the Pittsburgh reliever who couldn't lose, finally won one. But the man of the moment in the National League is Sam Jones, the guy with a toothpick and an arm.

Sad Sam did just about everything for San Francisco Wednesday as the first place Giants won their fifth in a row. The toothpick chewin' right-hander beat the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 with a two-hitter and got the run home when he walked with the bases loaded in the second inning.

The Pirates retained second place, 1½ games behind, by defeating Los Angeles 6-3 with three runs in the eighth and three shutout innings of one-hit relief by Face. Third place Milwaukee rapped the St. Louis Cardinals 12-8 with Wes Covington and Del Crandall joining Mathews in the homer hammering. Cincinnati's game at Chicago was called off because of cold weather, the Cubs' sixth consecutive postponement.

Jones, 34, put away his fourth victory in six decisions with the fourth two-hit game of his career and his first shutout.

The Giants managed only five hits, four off loser Jim Owens (2-3), who worked seven frames A leadoff walk to Willie McCovey and two-out singles by Hobie Landrith and Ed Bressoud loaded the bases before Owens walked Jones on a 3-1 pitch.

The Pirates got all their runs with two out, in the first, eighth and ninth. They scored in the first on Gene Baker's single, his first hit since he was given up for lost after a 1958 injury. But then they were blanked on three hits until the eighth when Hal Smith's tying, two-run single chased loser Sandy Koufax (0-3) and ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli clinched it with a single off reliever Larry Sherry.

Face, now 1-3 took over in the seventh after rookie Joe Gibbon gave way for a pinch-hitter. Rookie Bob Aspromonte drove in all of the Dodgers' runs.

Mathews' 304th career home run his fifth of the season, gave the Braves a clinching 9-2 lead in the sixth inning after he had singled home a pair in a six-run fifth. Warren Spahn (2-0) collected his 269th victory, the 55th over St. Louis, but needed relief help from Don McMahon and Lew Burdette.

Three of the Milwaukee homers came off losing right-hander Lindy McDaniel (1-1).

Mrs. Berardi Wins Opener

Mrs. Eugene Berardi posted a net 36, with 51 gross and 15 handicap, to win first place in the opening handicap tournament for Twaalfskill women this season.

Mrs. Ernest Schirmer of Saugerties, who posted low gross of 48, had net 39, with 9 handicap. Mrs. Elbert MacFadden won third place in the nine-hole event, with 58-15-43. Fifteen players competed.

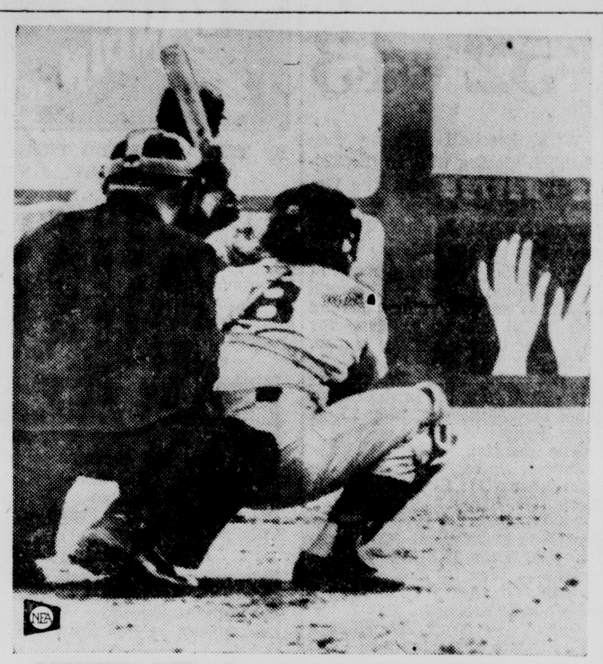

Tigers Nip Nats, 1-0, In the 11th

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers won their first five games, lost their next 10 and now have won two straight—both 1-0 decisions at Washington on two-out, last-inning home runs. Al Kaline's shot in the 11th inning did it Wednesday night with Frank Lary out-dueling Pete Ramos in a double five-hitter.

The victory lifted the Tigers past Washington into sixth place in the American League race, just four games behind Chicago's idle first place White Sox despite that 10-game skid.

Baltimore defeated Kansas City 5-3 on Jackie Brandt's two-run homer in the 10th inning in the only other AL game played. Chicago and the other first division clubs—New York, Boston and Cleveland—were rained out.

ECONOMY SIZE—Some fans suspect the Rainiers of indulging in psychological warfare against Pacific Coast League clubs visiting Sick Stadium in Seattle, but the giant-sized hands belong to an advertisement on the center field wall. Catcher Carmillo Correon of the home side is ready to receive a pitch from Ken McBride to San Diego's Francisco Obregon.

Kaline's third home run—his first hit in 15 at bats—broke up a three-hit shutout by Ramos (0-4).

Lary (2-2) struck out seven and walked just one.

Brandt's home run, following a single by Walt Dropo off losing reliever Marty Kutyna (1-1), was his first in the AL.

Milt Pappas (2-2) won it in relief after rookie Steve Barber, who replaced Arnie Portocarrero to the third inning, had given up just one earned run in a seven-inning relief job.

BOATING A FISH

NEVER TAKE A NETTED FISH OUT OF A LANDING NET UNTIL IT'S IN THE BOAT AND STRUNG ON A STRINGER (IF PANFISH OR BASS), OR KILLED FOR REFRIGERATION (IF TROUT, SALMON, OR TOOTHY FISH). THEN UNHOOK THE LURE, AND REMOVE FISH FROM THE NET. THUS, THERE ISN'T A CHANCE OF LOSING FISH OVERBOARD, OR HAVING A LOOSED FISH THRASHING IN THE BOAT.

Litters Too Heavy

FAIR LAWN, N.J. (AP)—Pet-loving Frank Brewer, who kept 34 dogs around the house, faced some problems today.

Health Department officials, who kept counting Scottie dogs at Brewer's 14-room house, impounded the lot.

"They just multiplied," Brewer said.

Furillo to Make Decision Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carl Furillo, one of the most dreaded Dodgers of them all in the days when baseball flourished in Flatbush, may quit the game this year. But don't bet on it.

Furillo, troubled by tender legs in the twilight of a great career, has talked to the Los Angeles front office about going into voluntary retirement. But it will take nothing less than some of the best medical advice in the country to get him there, and that may not do it.

"I'm going to see a specialist in Chicago on the road trip coming up," Furillo said Wednesday night. "They say he's the second best in the country at this sort of thing. I'll probably make up my mind when we come back."

Furillo said a Dodger doctor has told him his legs are shot.

"Hell, I don't see how he can say they're shot the way I've been running around," Furillo said. "I want to see what this specialist says.

"And I may not quit even if he says the same thing."

Furillo, 38, batted .290 in 50 games last season. He has two hits in 10 times at bat this year.

Feels Negro More Segregated Now In Large Cities

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Chicago sociologist, said today the American Negro is becoming more, not less, segregated in large cities.

Prof. Philip M. Hauser, chairman of the University's sociology department and former acting director of the U. S. Census, said the Negro is gradually moving outward toward the suburbs, getting better jobs and education.

Other immigrants did this as individuals and became assimilated he said. But the Negro is moving as a group, taking his segregated ghetto with him.

This results, he said, from color prejudice and the fact that Negroes are arriving in metropolitan areas more rapidly and in greater numbers than did other immigrants.

"Unlike his immigrant predecessors, the Negro is becoming more, rather than less, segregated in American metropolitan areas," Hauser said.

Hauser told an international conference of mayors that metropolitan centers will face a crisis in human relations in the 1960s.

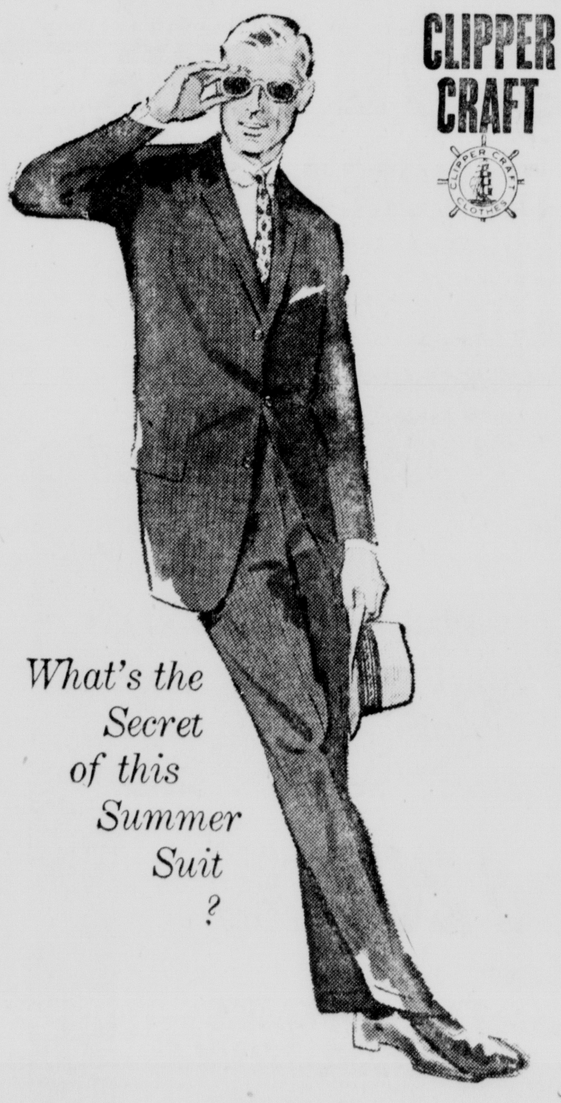

This will result in part, he said, from the fact that though the Negro is fleeing segregated living, other groups want to live in enclaves and are resisting integration.

"The test of our Democratic order," he said, "will lie not so much in a shift from segregated to integrated living, as in the freedom of a person or a group to live either in integrated fashion or in enclaves."

Between you'n'me, if you think the majors aren't conscious of the Continental League expansion, try hitching these together — the abortive rumor that a National League club would play some games in Yankee Stadium . . . and now, our Minneapolis sources tell us, the American League will re-open the expansion issue to the Twin Cities in July.

Simmons Is Released By Philadelphia Nine

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies have given Curt Simmons his outright release, marking the end of an era for the toughluck southpaw who broke into the majors in 1947 as an 18-year-old bonus baby.

Simmons, who was signed for $65,000 out of Whitehall High School in his hometown of Egypt, Pa., had been unimpressive the few times he worked this year. He pitched four innings in four games, two of which he started, and gave up a total of 13 hits and 8 runs for an 18.00 earned run average.

In announcing his release to meet the Wednesday midnight 25-player National League limit, General Manager John Quinn said "It was not snap decision."

Quinn said it was decided to give the 31-year-old Simmons an opportunity to make a deal for himself. Last Saturday Simmons had asked to be traded rather than warm the bench with the Phillies who are rebuilding.

Simmons' release leaves Robin Roberts as the only member of the Phillies pennant winning whiz kids of 1950. Curt's best year when he posted a 17-8 record before entering military service in late July and missing the World Series.

Simmons, who won 115 games in his 13 years with the Phillies, had been beset by arm trouble last year and missed most of the season.

In getting down to the 25-player limit the Phillies also sent rookie southpaw reliever Chris Short to Buffalo of the International League, leaving the club without a left-handed pitcher.

Two other well known pitchers were among those chopped off in the NL.

Lawrence Optioned

Cincinnati optioned Brooks Lawrence, past ace with both the Reds and St. Louis, to Indianapolis of the American Assn.

Pittsburgh sent George Witt, the right-hander who won seven straight as a rookie in 1958 but hasn't won since, to Salt Lake City of the Pacific Coast League.

The Pirates also optioned outfielder Joe Christopher to Salt Lake and outfielder Ray Mejias to Columbus of the International League.

Only Los Angeles and St. Louis were within the limit before the last day rush.

The other deadline action:

Milwaukee — Traded pitcher Bob Giggie to Kansas City of the American League for pitcher George Brunet, who was sent to Louisville of the American Assn. along with outfielder Lee Maye.

San Francisco—Released pitcher Ray Monzant outright and optioned young right-hander Verle Tiefenthaler, both to Tacoma of the PCL.

Chicago — Sent pitcher Al Schroll, catcher Moe Thacker and infielder Sammy Drake to Houston, and recalled infielder Jerry Kindall from the American Assn. club.

The American League deadline, which comes a month after opening day, is next Wednesday.

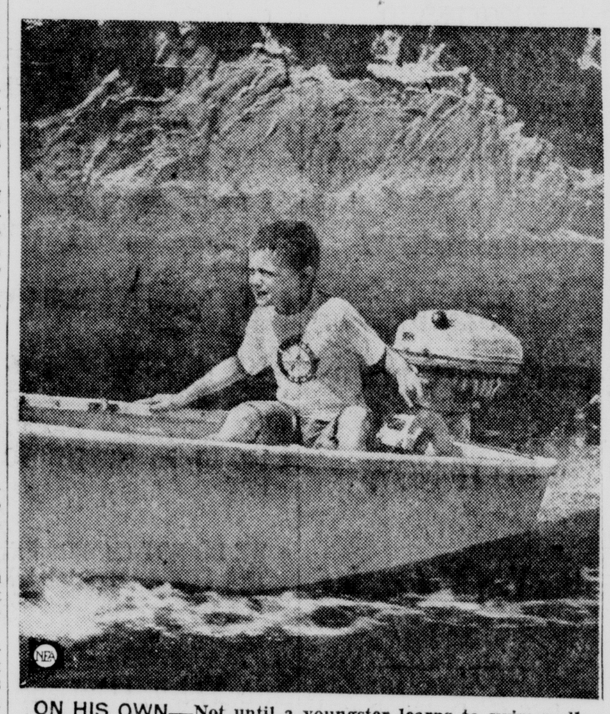

Arrested on Warrant

James Baker, 52, of 50 Second Avenue, was arrested Wednesday night on a warrant executed by Detective Leonard Ellsworth and Officer Sheldon O'Rourke and charging third degree assault. The arrest was on complaint of Baker's wife, Edna. Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig today put the case over to Tuesday night.

Beginners' Rules Are For Kids and Adults

ON HIS OWN—Not until a youngster learns to swim well and acquires good seamanship and judgment is it safe to let him go out in a boat alone. There are many hazards.

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Youngsters like to run a boat alone, but when is it safe to let them?

First the child must learn the basic rules of good boating and good judgment—then you can decide.

Surveys show children often receive more careful training in seamanship than older boatmen who start as adults. As a result, they are frequently better sailore and have fewer accidents, though they often show weakness in applying common sense.

Young or old, the new boatman should not be frightened by the water, but should keep a healthy respect for it.

Learning to swim is the first step for children. This can help them overcome any special fears. Until a child reaches school age at least, however, he should wear a life jacket when out in a boat—even if he is a good swimmer. While moving around on deck, a youngster could slip and fall overboard.

For adult guests who hesitate to wear a life jacket, there are now available small clip-on packages which inflate when they are squeezed and expand into sturdy flotation bags.

The child should learn to keep his weight low in the boat. Standing and moving can unbalance a hull and cause it to tip.

Most children start by handling small boats. These are especially likely to tip over. By always stepping down to the center of the boat, and staying seated amidships while it is underway, the young skipper learns an important lesson.

Once you entrust a boat to a youngster, keep an eye on him.

Most accidents are caused when boatmen, fully grown and presumably smart, go off by themselves and manage to fall overboard when no one is around.

Does the child open up the outboard motor and try to go too fast? Explain that speed causes waves which can capsize a fisherman at anchor, or cause even big boats to roll and break accessories.

A boatman is legally responsible for his wake and the damage it might cause. Slow speeds in crowded harbors and reasonable speeds beyond require the kind of self control it takes longest to develop.

By going slowly at first, you or your child learn how to approach a dock without banging into it—boats have no brakes—and how to maneuver in tight quarters without collisions.

Petunia Seeds Expensive

GREYBULL, Wyo., (AP) — Frank Copp found out five ounces of double petunia seed is a lot of petunia seed. He ordered that much from a seed firm in Billings, Mont. The firm wrote Copp to ask if he was certain he wanted five ounces. Copp wasted no time replying he didn't . The seed sells for $500 an ounce.

Swordfish can swim at speeds up to 70 miles per hour.

No. 26—Stance Guide

By JIMMY DEMARET
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The accompanying illustration of the stance guide shows the relationship of the feet to the line of flight and the ball for a drive.

The ball is so directly opposite the left heel, as indicated by the arrow, that an extension of the right-most guide strip would connect the two.

Since tee shots are hit just as the club passes the lowest point of its descending arc and begins the upswing through the ball, drives are positioned more to the left side than other wood shots.

Play two, three and four-wood shots slightly to the right of a line which could be drawn from the ball to the left heel. This will make it possible to strike all wood shots except drives at the second the club reaches the lowest part of its descending arc.

The stance is the whole of your physical attitude when you have finished addressing the club to the ball and are ready to begin the swing. Think of the stance as something relating you and the club to the ball.

Thinking of the stance as a way of placing the feet in position deprives you of concentrating on the entire purpose of the stance and address, which is to take aim and prepare yourself to support the swing from beginning to end.

NEXT: The stance for middle-iron shots.

Would Block Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. today moved to block a proposed merger of Hammermill Paper Co. and United States Envelope Co.

West Virginia offered to buy a maximum of 250,000 shares of United States Envelope stock, offering $38 for each common share and $20 for each preferred share. The offer closed May 27.

David L. Luke, president of West Virginia, said, "This offer to buy is based on our firm conviction that the proposed merger of United States Envelope into Hammermill Paper Co. on the basis of a share- for -share exchange of stock does not serve the best interests of the shareholders of United States Envelope."

Shad Run Better, Stripers Are Starting

He said he caught approximately 50 in two trips Wednesday about 11:30 p. m., most weighing from 11 to 14 pounds each.

The practically boneless member of the bass family, he said, usually start after the shad season, but this years are earlier.

Turck said roe are beginning to run heavier now, and that he is getting his share of them along with bucks. The shad season closes June 1.

Photos Available Of Cemeteries and Graves Overseas

The local chapter of the American Red Cross announces that the next-of-kin of World War II servicemen, killed or missing in action overseas, may obtain a large aerial colored lithograph of the military cemetery where the serviceman is interred (or commemorated), and a smaller black and white close-up photograph of the grave site and headstone or, in case of those listed as "missing in action," a close-up photograph showing the name inscribed on a memorial wall.

Next-of-kin should direct requests to The American Battle Monuments Commission, Washington, D. C., giving only the following information; 1. Name of the deceased; 2. Service number of the deceased, if known (Not VA Claim no.); 3. Name, relationship, and mailing address of person making request.

The only exception to this procedure is that photos of grave sites in the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific at Honolulu shouuld be obtained by writing the Quartermaster General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C. The same is applicable to all national cemeteries in the continental United States.

Talk About Cornell Building For Offices Uncertain Tonight

A regular meeting of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the court house.

Whether the proposition of acquiring the Cornell Building on Ferry Street for county office use will come before the board is indefinte. The matter, under discussion for several months, was not brought up at the last meeting of the board although a delegation from the downtown section of the city was present.

Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo (R), of the town of Ulster is on vacation, leaving the board membership a tie at 16 to 16 if all other members are in attendance.

Several inspections of the property have been made by the committee on county building, a visit being made last Friday when Chairman Robert Phinney (R), accompanied other members of the committee, including Majority Leader Jesse McHugh (R), inspected the property.

In the controversy over erection of a county building to put the various departments under one roof, plans were prepared for a building on the county owned property adjacent to the Tuberculosis Hospital on The Boulevard, but this program was stymied when opposition by Democratic members developed.

Since then a move to acquire property in the downtown sections of the city as temporary quarters for some county departments has developed. The Cornell Building on Ferry Street and the former Home Seeker's building at East Strand and Broadway have been under consideration.

In recent weeks, however, there has been some return to favor of an original plan outlined in a post-war program advanced back in the 1940's for location of a new county building either on the court house grounds, now used for parking purposes, or on the former Eagle Hotel property on Main Street. This property was acquired some 20 years ago with the idea of building a county building on the site. It is presently used for public parking.

Some board members feel that acquiring the downtown premises would prevent the erection of an adequate county office building for many years while others point to the need for immediate relief and, that even if a new county building were erected there would be need for temporary quarters during the construction period.

Distribute Firm, Products Listing On Export Data

NEW YORK — A listing of 45,000 New York State manufacturers and 7,000 products available for export has been supplied to more than 200 United States Foreign Service officials throughout the world by the State Department of Commerce, it was announced today.

State Commerce Commissioner Keith S. McHugh said that this move has been made to help state industries expand their foreign markets. It is in furtherance of the National Export Expansion Program recently initiated by the U. S. Department of Commerce to counter foreign gains in world trade and to recapture international markets for American exports.

Commissioner McHugh stated that copies of the "Industrial Directory of New York State" have been distributed to American ambassadors, consuls general and consuls in all free nations to assist in developing export opportunities for New York manufacturers. The distribution of the directories was effected with the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Commerce and the Department of State.
